BRO. JOSEPH GAESSLER, S. M.

Born August 15, 1879

Died May 25, 1961

On the feast of Mary, Help of Christians, Bro. Joseph Gaessler went to join Father Chaminade and the thousands of his fellow Marianists around the throne of Our Lady on the feast of whose Assumption he was born.

Brother Gaessler made his first profession of vows in the Society of Mary on March 21, 1897. Five years later, on January 21, 1902, he arrived in Japan where he was to spend the rest of his life. He never returned to his native France.

During his fifty-nine years in Japan, Brother Gaessler taught at the Apostles' School in Urakami, at the Meisei in Osaka, at the Gyosei in Tokyo, and at St. Joseph College, where he spent the last twenty-one years.

Throughout our years at St. Joseph College, Brother Gaessler has always been closely associated with our class. He was our homeroom teacher in the fourth grade, and he taught us English several times. Many of us owe our entrance into the Catholic Church to his constant teaching, example and prayers. There are truly hundreds of alumni of our school and other Marianist schools in Japan who could say the same thing. On that fateful first day of first grade, he set us at ease by calling "Bochan, bochan" and speaking to us in Japanese. He was always interested in us, and ever ready to help. He was very much a part of the sixty years of St. Joseph College.

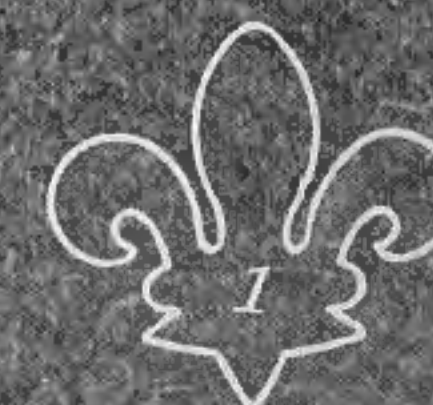

Another grand Marianist missionary and teacher has gone to God. We of the senior class dedicate our yearbook to him in grateful memory. May he intercede for us in Heaven.

1961 FORWARD

Nineteen sixty-one marks a double anniversary. The founder of the Society of Mary, whose members teach at St. Joseph College, was born two hundred years ago on

St. Joseph College, celebrating this year the sixtieth anniversary of its foundation. We tribute to the work, the genius, and the very life of Father Chaminade, who is responsible for its existence.

These two interlocking anniversaries form the theme of this book.

THE AUDITORIUM

My dear Graduates,

The time has come for the class of '61 to say "Sayonara!" to your Alma Mater. In a comparatively short time you, like your predecessors, will be scattered over the globe in your different pursuits. Yet, wherever you are, you will always be remembered as the sons of William Joseph Chaminade, that great priest—the Bicentennial of whose Birth we are commemorating this year and who founded the Society of Mary (Marianists) to which your teachers belong. Father Chaminade's whole life and teaching and many accomplishments are summarized in great part in your School's motto: "Forward with Faith and Fortitude"

Remember, too, Seniors, that yours is the privilege to leave SJC in its SIXTIETH YEAR. St. Joseph's is happy to have been of service to the Community during all that time and hopes to be of greater service still in the future.

Graduates, hold fast to what you have learned. Above all, be men—men of character—by fulfilling from day to day the role for which God has destined you. May He be with you always!

Rev. Francis W. Gerber, S.M.
Principal

GRADUATES

William Joseph Chaminade was born on April 8, 1761. He was the youngest of thirteen children. From his father he heard stories of Perigueux, his home town, and of the France he loved so well. From his mother he learned his prayers, and from her he received the deep spirit of faith and charm of manner which were so characteristic of him. The spirit of religion filled his life from his early years, and his father often called him "our little saint".

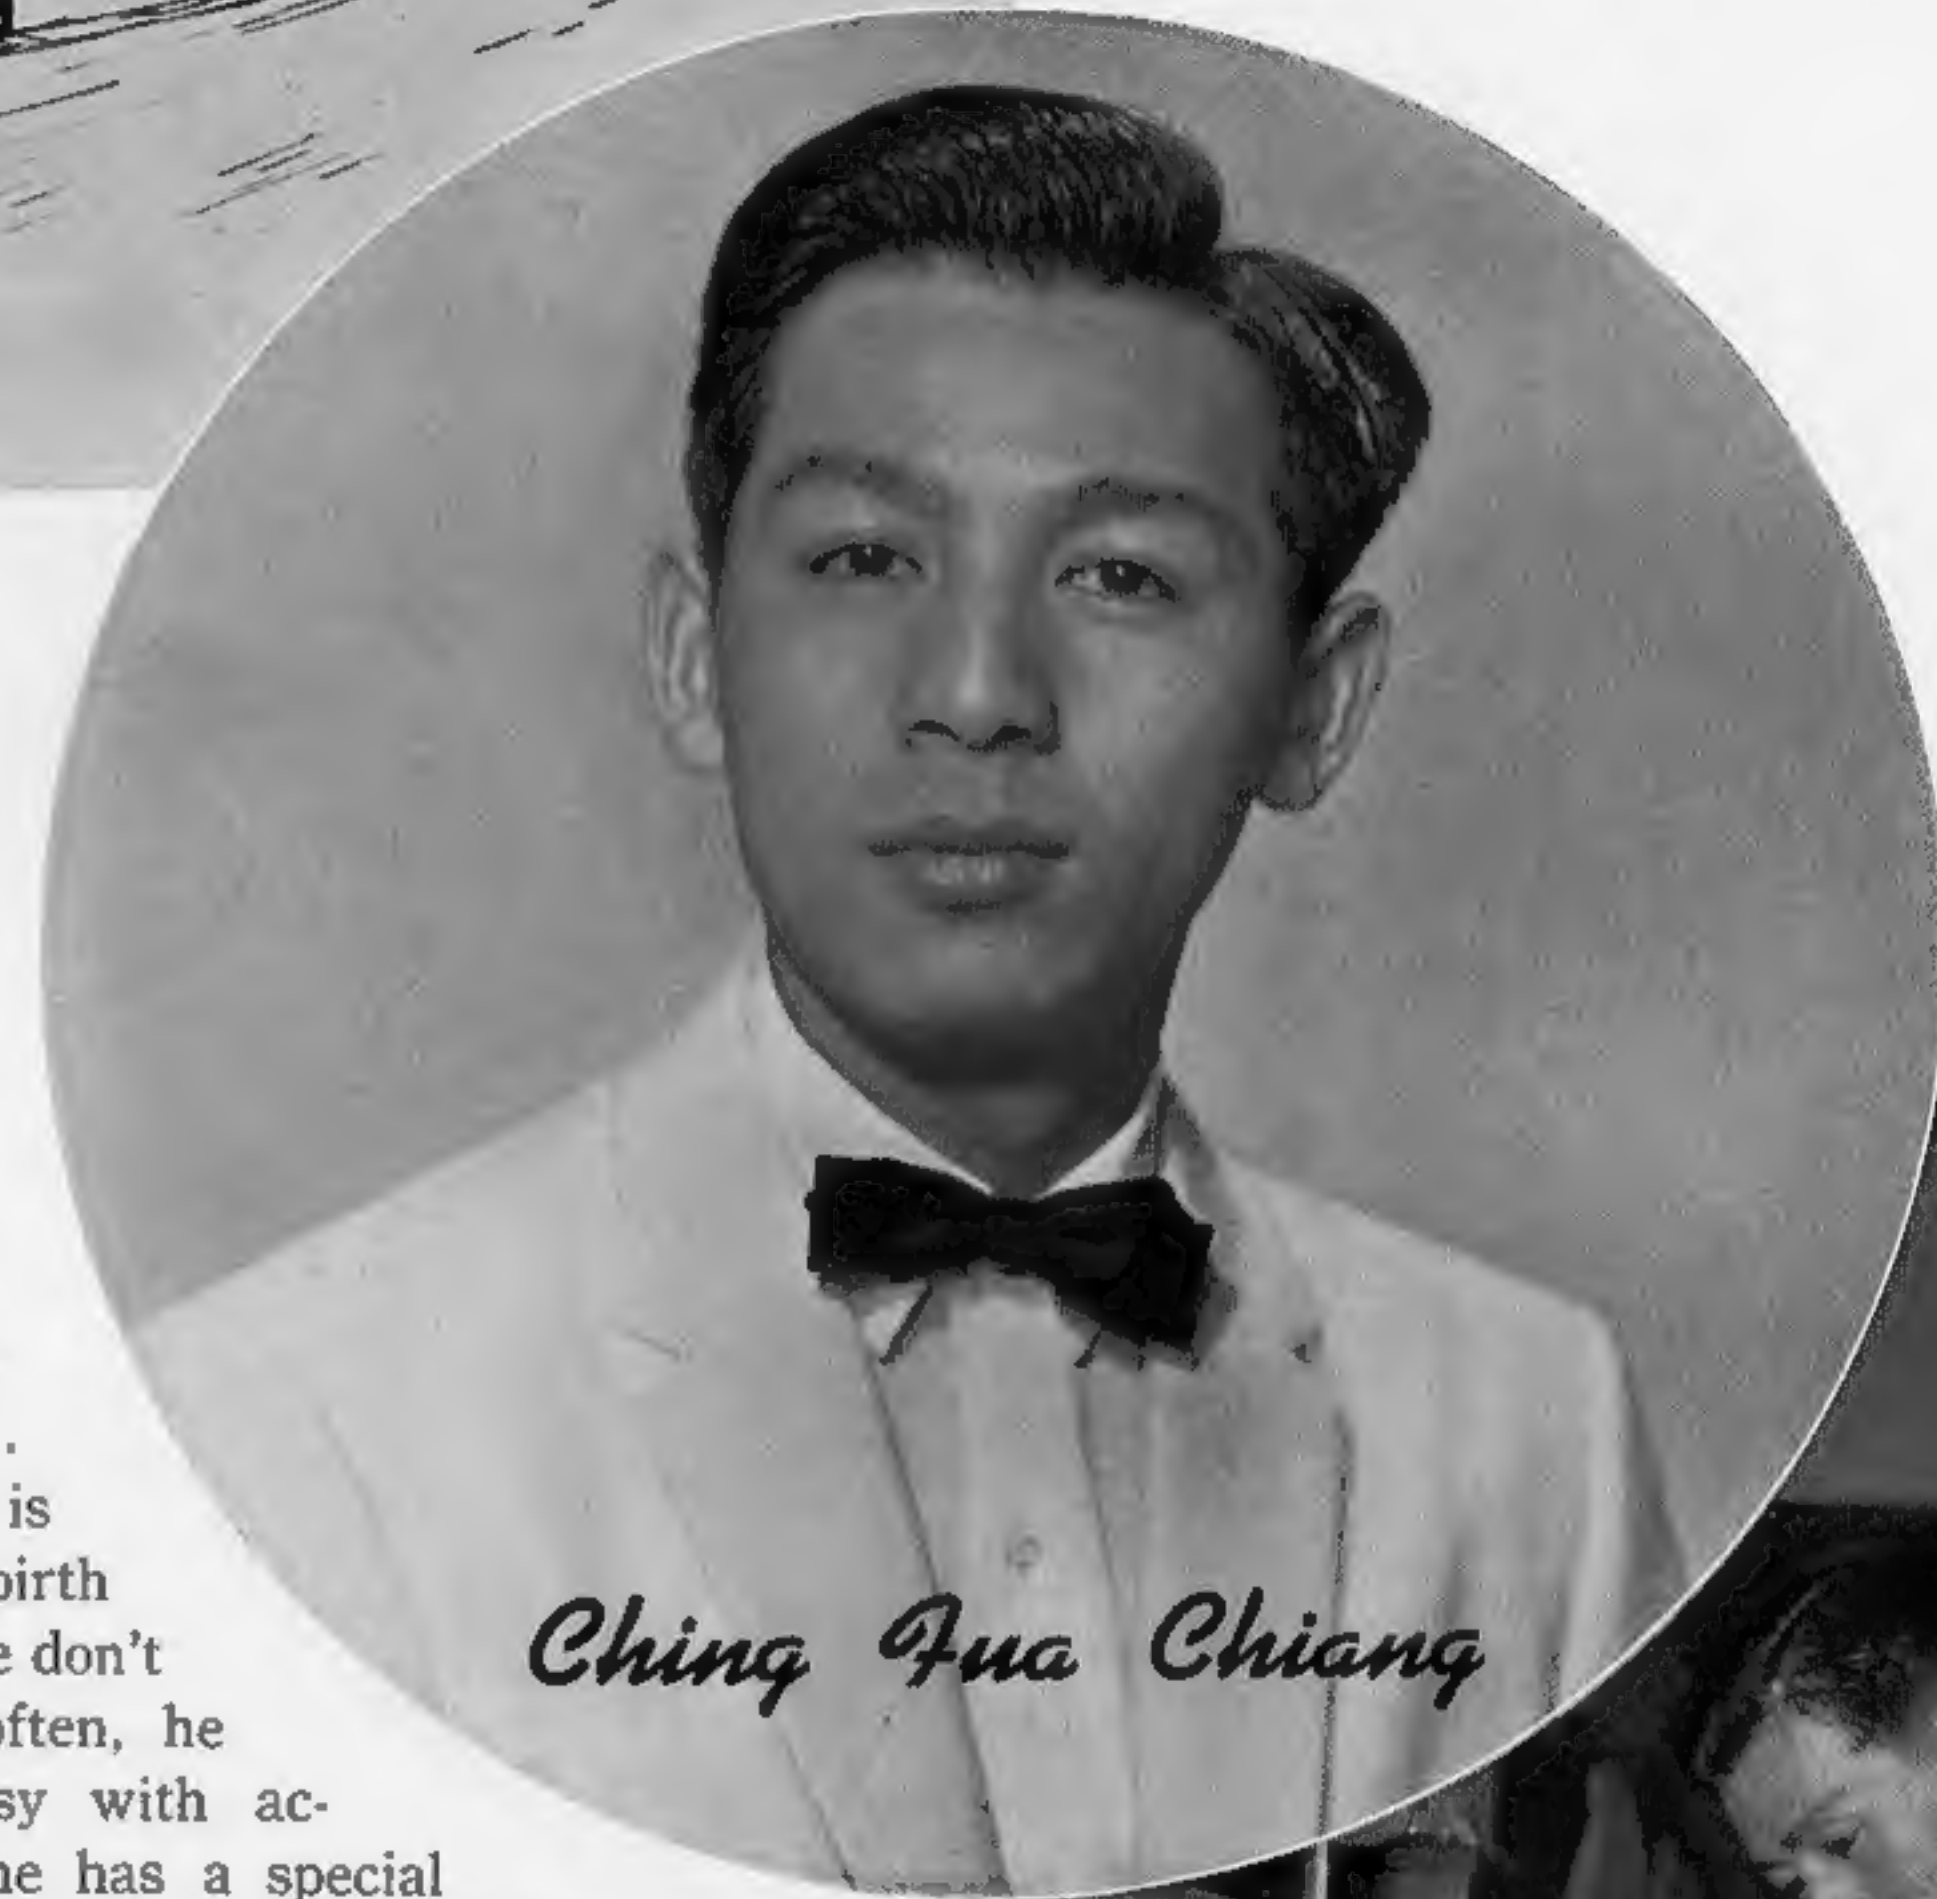

When Joseph (he always signed his name G. Joseph Chaminade) was ten, he was sent to the College of Mussidan, about twenty miles from Perigueux. His brother, John, a priest, was a teacher at this school. Another brother, Louis, was also a student there. Fourteen years later, in 1785, the three brothers returned to Mussidan to take over the school at the request of its head who wished to retire. Joseph finished his classical studies in four years.

George V. Bellikoff

George was born on August 27, 1941 .....he is of Russian descent, though stateless now.....he is extremely quiet, and only the chosen few know much about him.....we have discovered, however, that he collects stamps and coins, and occasionally plays tennis, though his favorite pastime is, as the picture opposite shows, skating .....George is interested in languages (just look at his French grades), and hopes to make them a part of his future.....so if someday you see a movie or TV showing of the UN with someone shouting at the Russian delegation in Japengrench (Japanese, English and French).....that's our George!

Ching Fua Chiang

Ching Fua is, of course, Chinese... October 22, 1940 is the date of his birth .....Though people don't see him around often, he keeps himself busy with activities in which he has a special interest.....among these are stamp collecting, skating, and ping-pong.....but his real love is anything mechanical.....or scientific.....or electric .....which of course means that he intends to find a future in which he can devote himself to these things.....in fact he has a whole room full of parts of things he hasn't quite managed to get back together yet!.....but he's happy—and so are we, that he was one of us.

One day, while he was still at Mussidan, Joseph was with a group of boys playing in a stone quarry. One loose stone rolled down and struck his right foot. Six weeks later the foot still had not healed. His brother John suggested that he pray to the Blessed Virgin. Joseph prayed, and promised that if he were cured he would make a pilgrimage on foot to the shrine of Verdelaïs, about forty miles away. The foot healed remarkably rapidly, and Joseph kept his promise, his brother going with him. This incident only served to increase his already great devotion to Our Lady.

After schooling in Mussidan and Bordeaux, Joseph went to the College de Lisieux, in Paris, which was directed by the Sulpician Fathers. Joseph had decided to become a priest, along with his two brothers John and Louis. He was ordained in 1784. After receiving his degree as Doctor of Divinity, he returned to Mussidan. Four years later, the French Revolution broke out in all its fury. Father Chaminade went to Bordeaux because he would not take the oath to uphold the new Civil Constitution which withdrew the Church in France from Papal jurisdiction.

William Kyle Davenport III

"Sparky" is one of the leading live-wires of the teenagers at Yokosuka... you would never guess this seeing him standing around Chaminade Hall with his cue stick in hand, waiting his turn at pool, which he often wins.....

Sometimes he will sneak up on you with his tape recorder and later on let you hear what you sound like in "off-guard" moments.....but usually he is recording music, which he likes very much.....for those who have not heard him speak often, it may be a surprise to know that he intends to follow law.....at least that's what we suppose he means when he says he's going to dedicate himself to the bar! "Sparky" celebrates January 30 as his birthday. 1942 was the year.

José Luis de Cossio V.

José Luis represents Peru in SJC's international setup... his birthday, June 29, 1942.....a lover of music, José plucks away at his guitar whenever he can..... his large record collection proves his interest in music, especially the modern kinds.....he also has a stamp collection..... he likes soccer, as do most of his South American compatriots.....he is also a member of the SJC International Scout Troop No. 1.....and as for the future, he plans to return to his native Peru and enter the Engineering College.....after that, who knows? Maybe he'll serenade a señorita while his company puts up one of de Cossio's Cozy Cottages.

In 1791 the revolution swept into Bordeaux in full force. Forty priests remained in the city to administer to the needs of the faithful. Among them was Fr. Chaminade. He assumed different disguises, but his favorite was that of a tinker—a mender of pots and pans. In this disguise he was even questioned by the police as to whether or not he knew the whereabouts of the priest Chaminade. Twenty of the forty priests were caught and executed, and every day Father Chaminade faced possible capture and death on the guillotine, but he stayed in the city, continually outwitting the police who sought him.

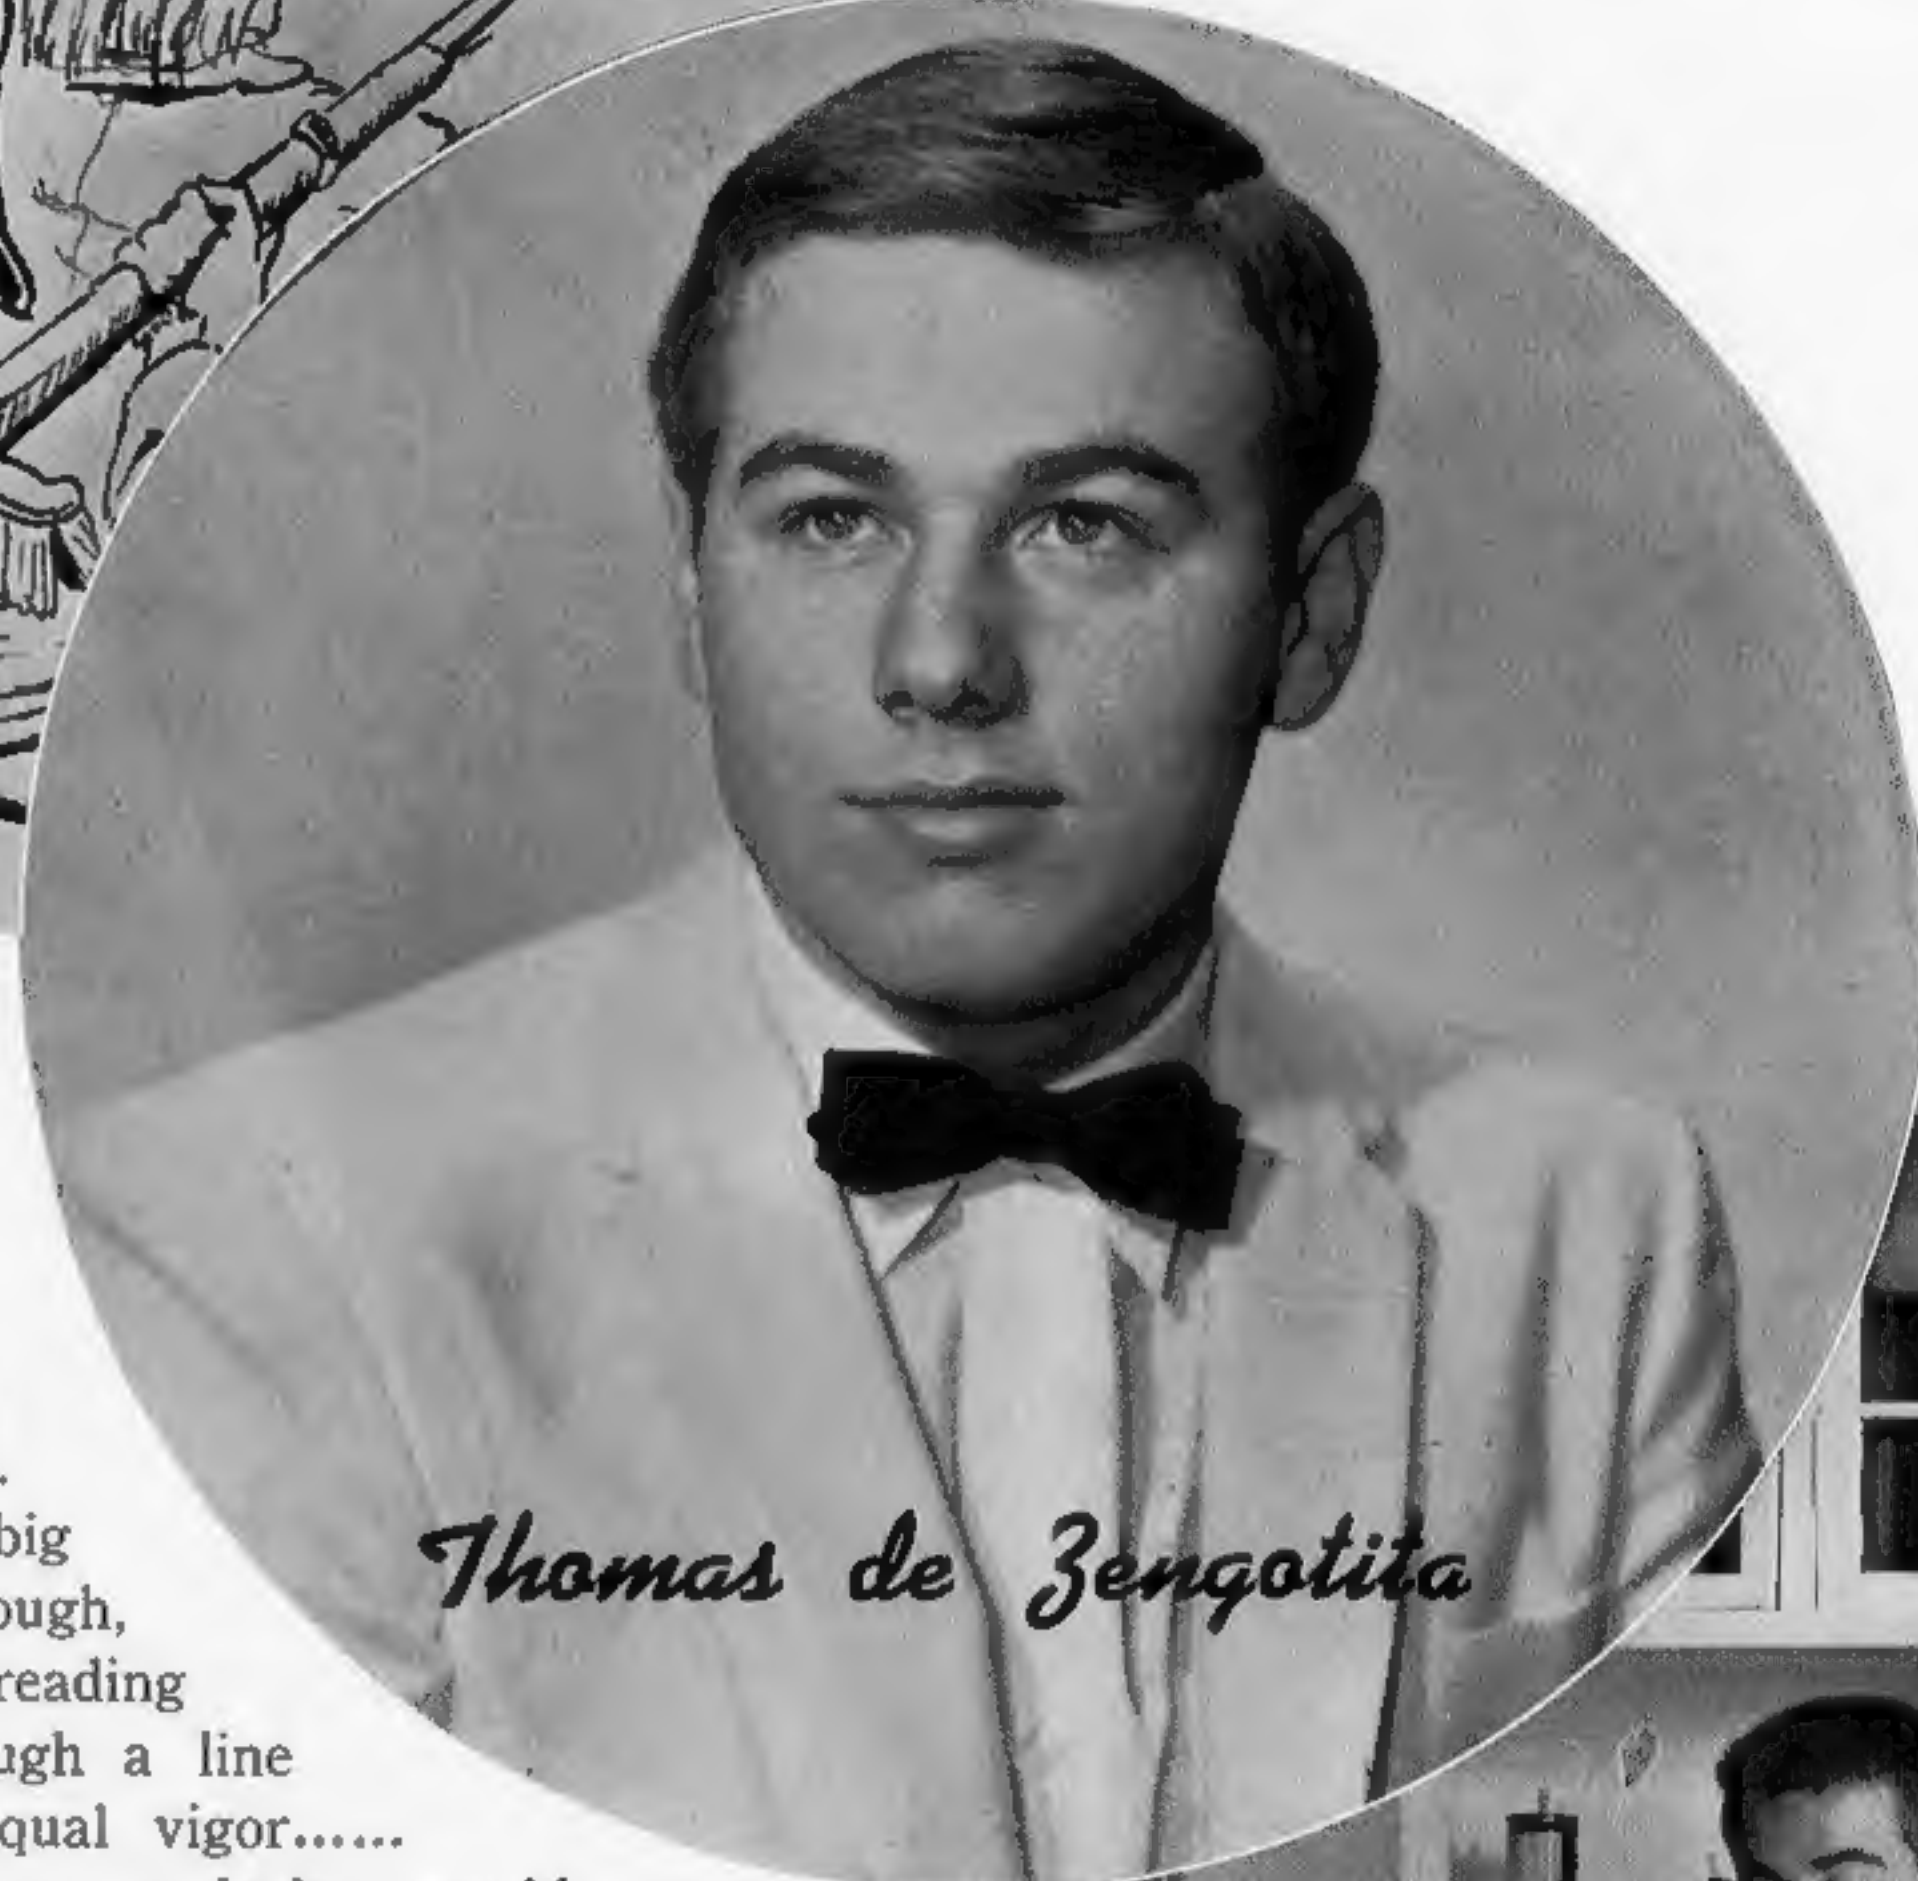

Danger came close to Father Chaminade often during the terrible Reign of Terror. Once while he was walking down a street, a mob and police stopped him and asked, "Tinker, did you see the priest Chaminade pass by here?" "Yes, I think I did," he replied. "Run down that way and maybe you'll catch him." The mob started off and Father Chaminade joked, "You're going to kill them all and leave none for seed, eh?" The answer came back: "Tinker, we'll do just that." When the disguise of tinker became dangerous, he changed to a peddler of pins and needles.

John Mario de Figueiredo

John is of Portuguese descent..... he came into the world on November 26, 1942.....his interests are many, and include stamps, coins, photography, and art, of which there are many excellent examples in this book.....John might be seen riding around on his bike, or following a little white dog which is taking him for a walk along the bluff.....and if he wants some other kind of exercise he practices soccer, since he is a member of the SJC Varsity team.....the future is uncertain—only because he has so many things he could do.....whatever he chooses will turn out well.....of that we're sure.

Thomas de Zengotita

July 27, 1943, Tom de Zengotita was born in the U.S.A. ....two of his big interests, oddly enough, are football and reading .....he plows through a line or a book with equal vigor..... though his desk, room, or locker would never prove it, Tom is a good organizer.....a tremendously successful Forward Patron Drive was the result of his efforts.....he has also been a class officer.....his future will take him into the field of politics in his father's footsteps.....and his ability in leadership will take him far.....he will always be remembered for his frequently organized attempts at "Hey, fellows, look at this!"

Another time when the police were chasing him, Fr. Chaminade went into the shop of the barrel-maker, Fouche. He climbed into one of the big barrels and waited while the police came in and asked the cooper where the priest was. M. Fouche hit on the barrel with his hammer and called, "Come out of there, Chaminade. We know you're there." The police, taking it as a joke, turned and left. When he climbed out of the barrel, Fr. Chaminade asked, "Why did you do that?" The cooper replied, "There was no danger, Father. Everyone knows I'm a liar!"

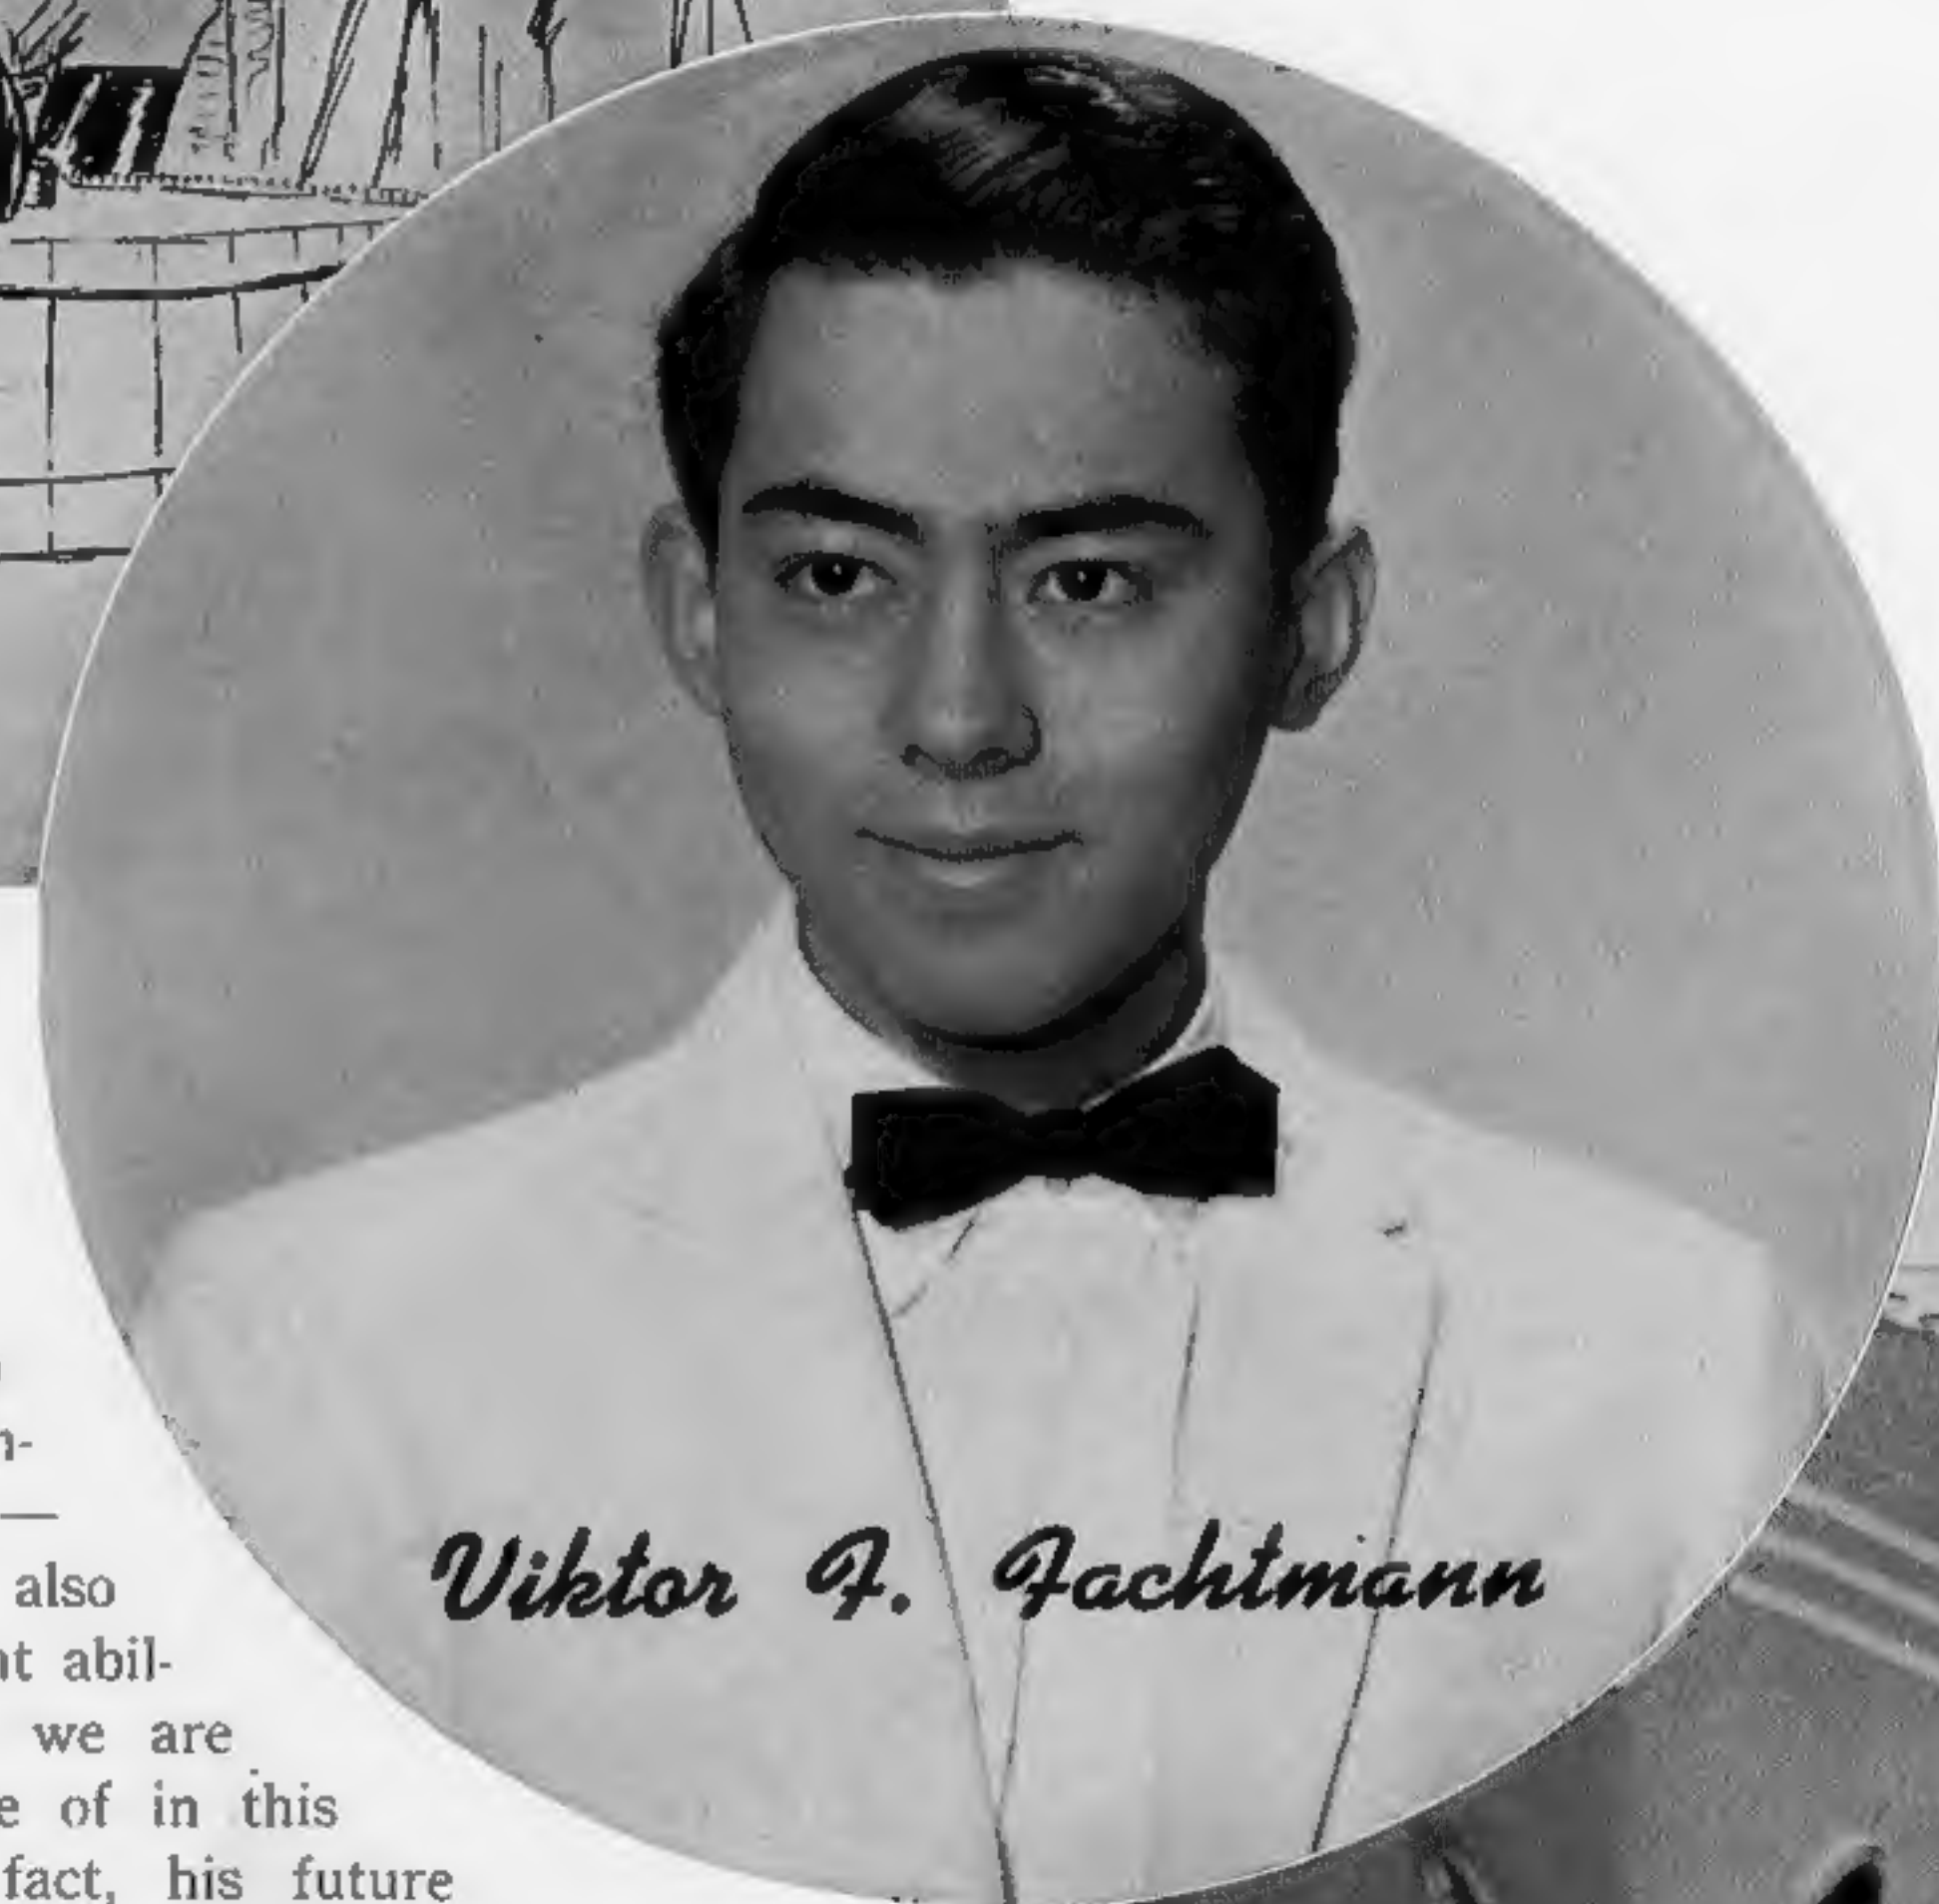

One interesting escape took place in Fr. Chaminade's own house at the Villa St. Lawrence. The police came unexpectedly, and Fr. Chaminade had only enough time to climb under a washtub in the kitchen. When the police had searched the house, the maid, Marie, invited them to take some wine. She set the bottle and the glasses on top of the tub covering Fr. Chaminade. The police drank, commented on her being a good citizeness, and left. When he came out of hiding, Fr. Chaminade remarked, "There was only the thickness of a board between me and the guillotine!"

Richard G. Eyton

Born on January 4, 1942, Dick is one of the best-liked and most versatile members of the class.....his soccer ability led him to the captaincy of the SJC Varsity and kept him high scorer .....Dick was also a pillar of the school softball team.....and in the line of sports, he also enjoys swimming.....his fame doesn't rest on sports alone, however.....almost everyone knows about the Country Plow Boys, of which Dick's singing and guitar are an essential part.....and he has a large record collection and a few sisters which also keep him popular.....the future, says Dick, will be in the business world.....we're willing to bet it will be a Sports Goods store or maybe a record shop called Discers Delight.

Viktor F. Fachtmann

Viktor brings to the 1961 class another nationality — German.....he also brings his excellent ability in art, which we are making much use of in this book.....and in fact, his future will be along the same lines in architecture.....he spends time in a related field of model building.....and he has a coin collection.....he is the only representative of the class in the SJC International Choir, and has always been a reliable and faithful member.....Viktor likes soccer and plays occasionally with the team of the Country Club.....he expects to have a full, happy life, and he looks back each year on July 8 to 1942 when it all started.

In 1794 Robespierre fell, and the revolution seemed to be over. Peace came again to Bordeaux. But in the fall of 1797, the Jacobins took over and trouble broke out again. Father Chaminade had hidden so well during the revolution that the police were at last convinced he really had left Bordeaux. New orders demanded that all emigrated priests had to return to exile. In vain, Fr. Chaminade insisted he had never left. With his brother Louis, he was forced to leave France, and in company with other priests, they began the journey to Spain.

Miles Goldrick

Miles, whose birthday is January 2, 1944, is the youngest member of the class.....he and seedless grapes are California's gift to SJC.....like his friend T.Z., he likes and plays football.....

when he isn't riding his motorcycle, that is.....but Miles also enjoys the finer things of life, such as reading, music, and eating.....we don't know how much music he listens to, but he reads and eats plenty.....he also likes taking apart mechanical gadgets, as long as he doesn't have to put them back together.....the future is undecided except for two things: it will have enjoyment and money in it.

On October 11, the Chaminade brothers arrived in Saragossa. It was the eve of the great feast of the city, Our Lady of the Pillar. The brothers were to remain here for three years. During this time, Joseph made and sold small plaster statues to provide funds for daily living. He gave his services wherever possible, and often visited the churches and monasteries near Saragossa. But most of all he liked to go to the famous basilica built in honor of Our Lady of the Pillar, said to be the oldest shrine in the world dedicated to the Blessed Virgin.

Takashi Hirano

Most of the photography in this book is the work of Takashi and we're proud of it.....besides that he can do such other interesting things as play piano and ukulele.....he is likewise the best in the class in his native tongue .....and in spite of his few years at SJC he mastered English well enough to take top honors.....even if he doesn't say much, he thinks a lot, and his thoughts for the future turn to law and diplomacy .....his gift of plum wine to a certain teacher proves his ability in that line.....he marks September 25, 1941 as his day to remember.

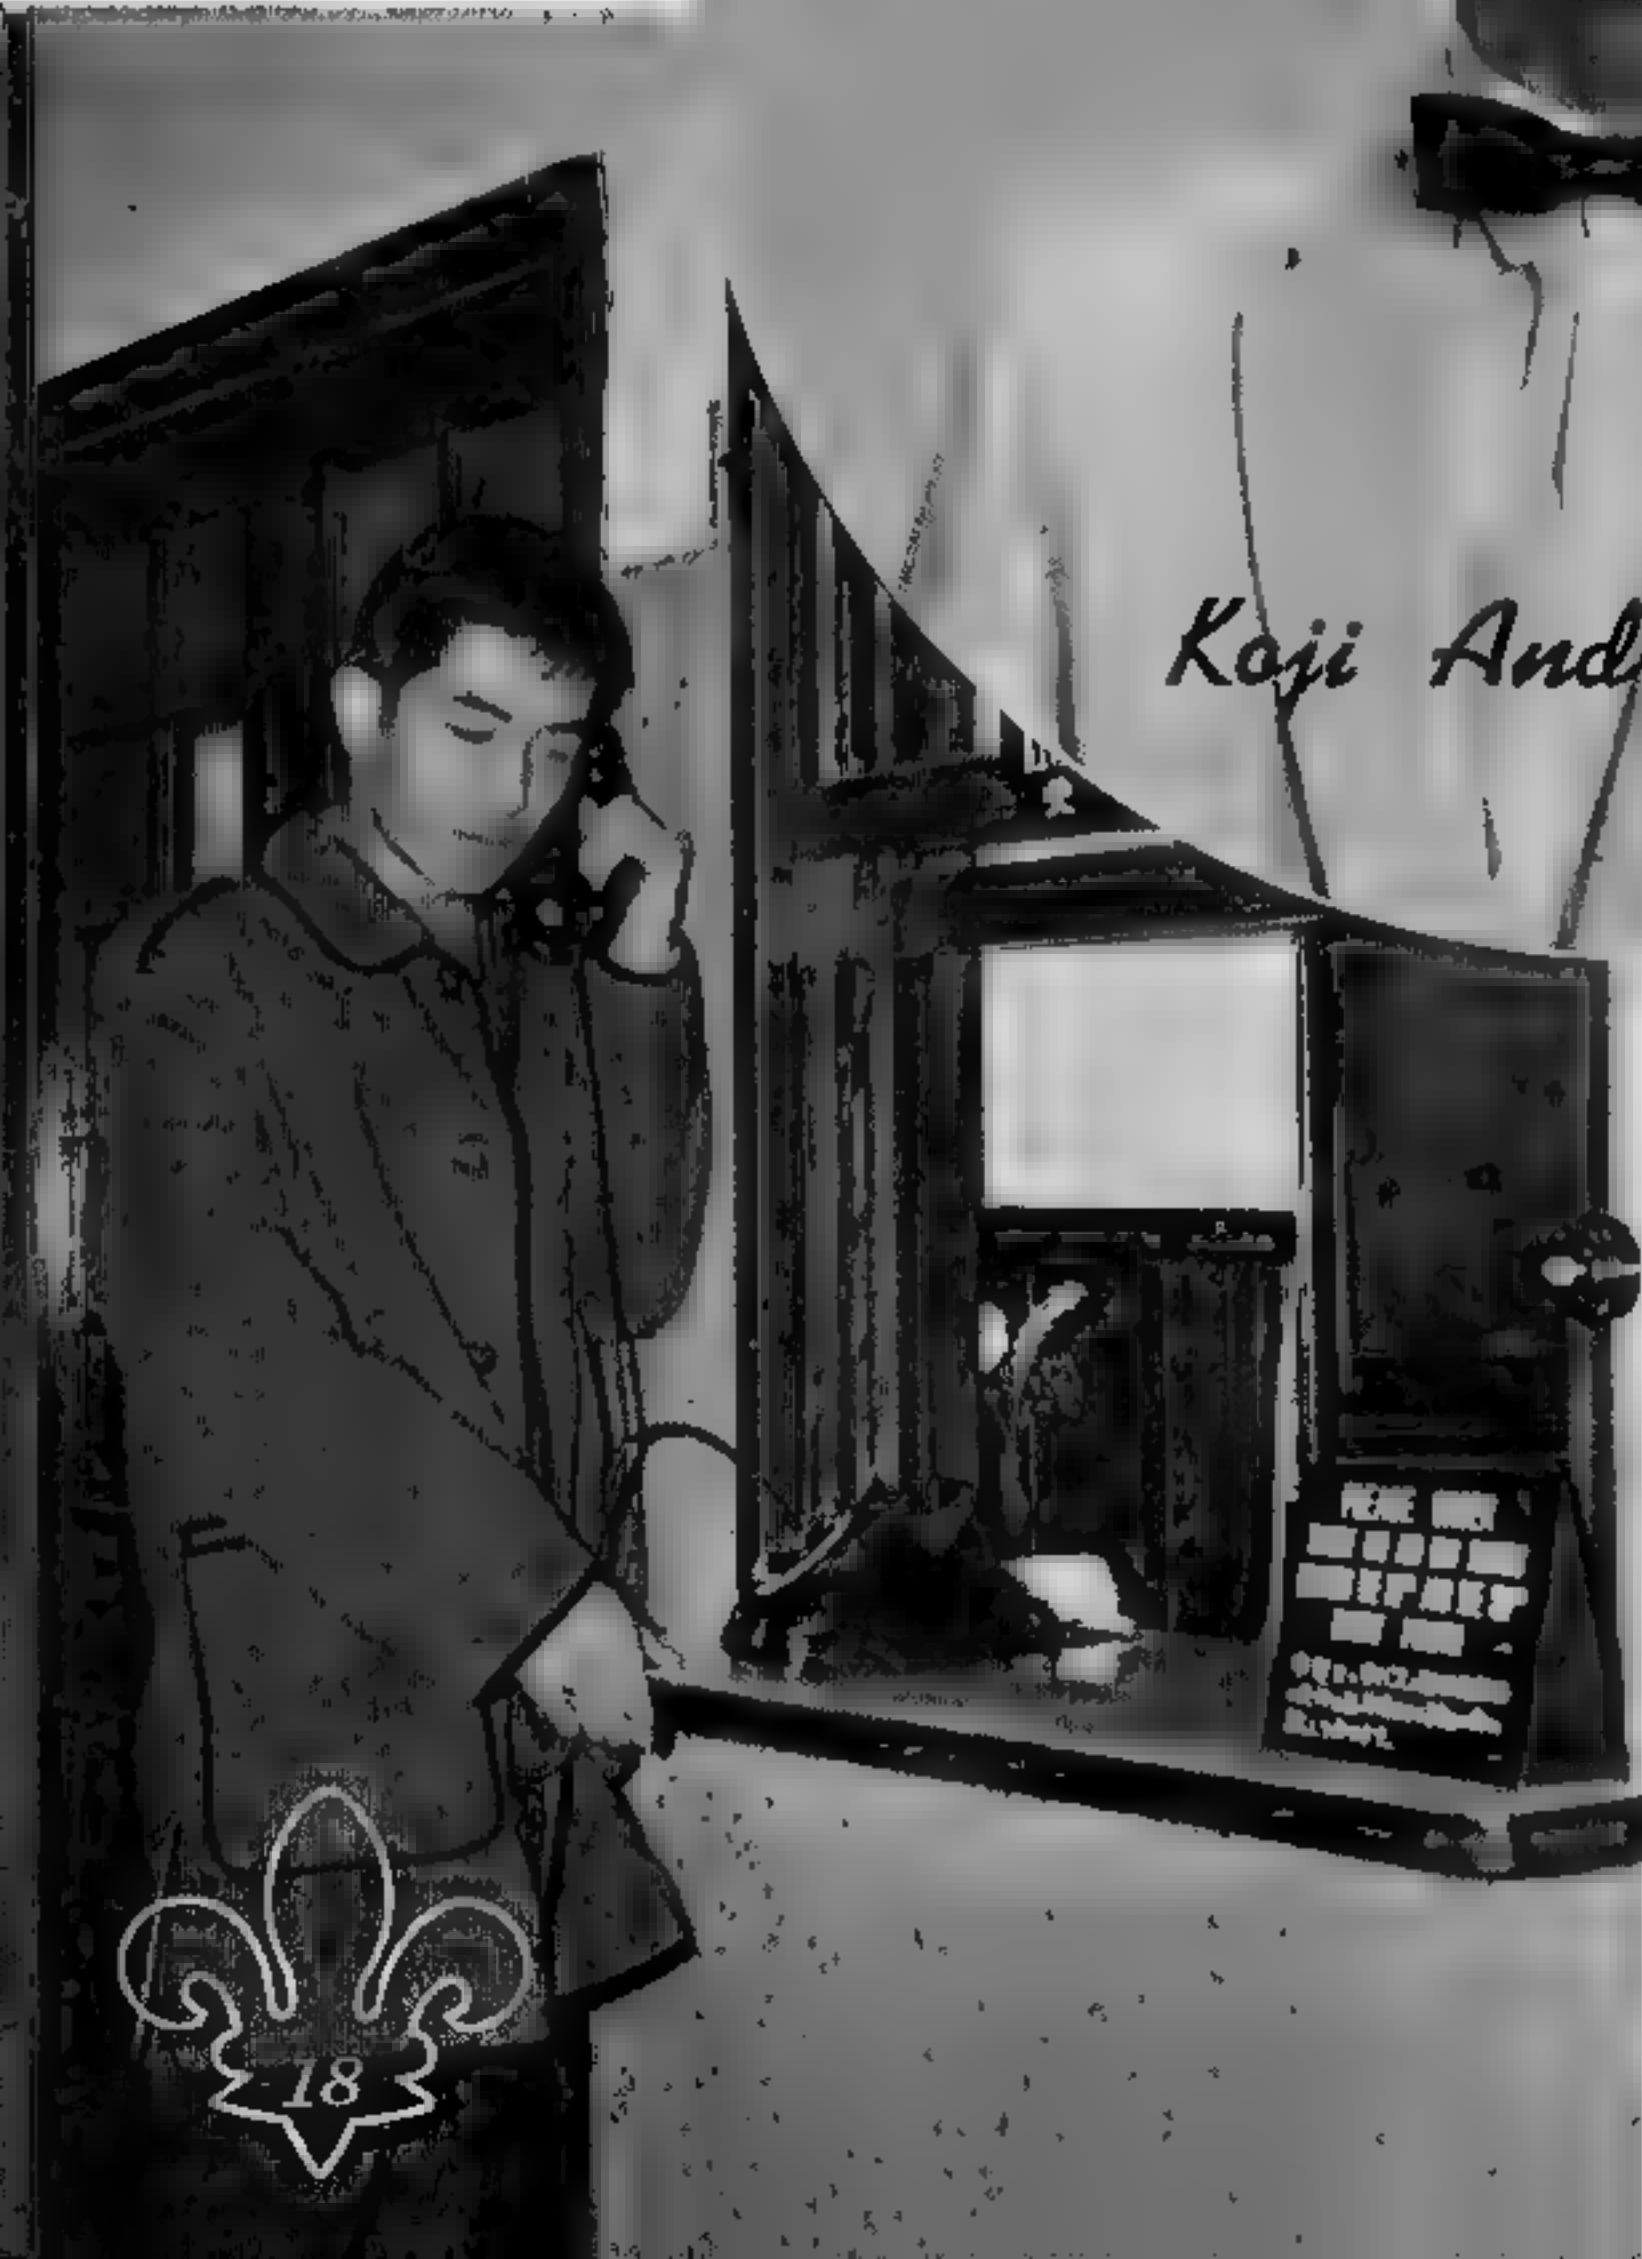

It was at the shrine of Our Lady of the Pillar that Father Chaminade's future work was revealed to him. The exact nature of the inspiration was never made known, but a whole plan of action began to form in his mind. He saw above all that only an intense practice of religion could save France from moral disaster. He saw further that a religious order would be the best means of accomplishing this renewal of faith. All of his plans he placed at the feet of Our Lady, thus practicing the filial piety to Mary that he was to spend his life teaching others.

Koji Andrew Ishii

August 13, 1943 was the beginning of things for Kenny .....many things have filled up his life since then.....the one in which he has the greatest interest is tennis which he plays very well .....along other lines, he also plays the guitar well, and was the prime mover behind a band.....his love of fun has kept him popular..... he has been a class officer more than once.....he was also a member of the Sodality.....the Forward and the Chronicle both saw his services.....he is also famous for his 'disappearing act' which nobody ever did figure out.....his future is uncertain, but his warm smile and genial ways are sure to succeed any time.

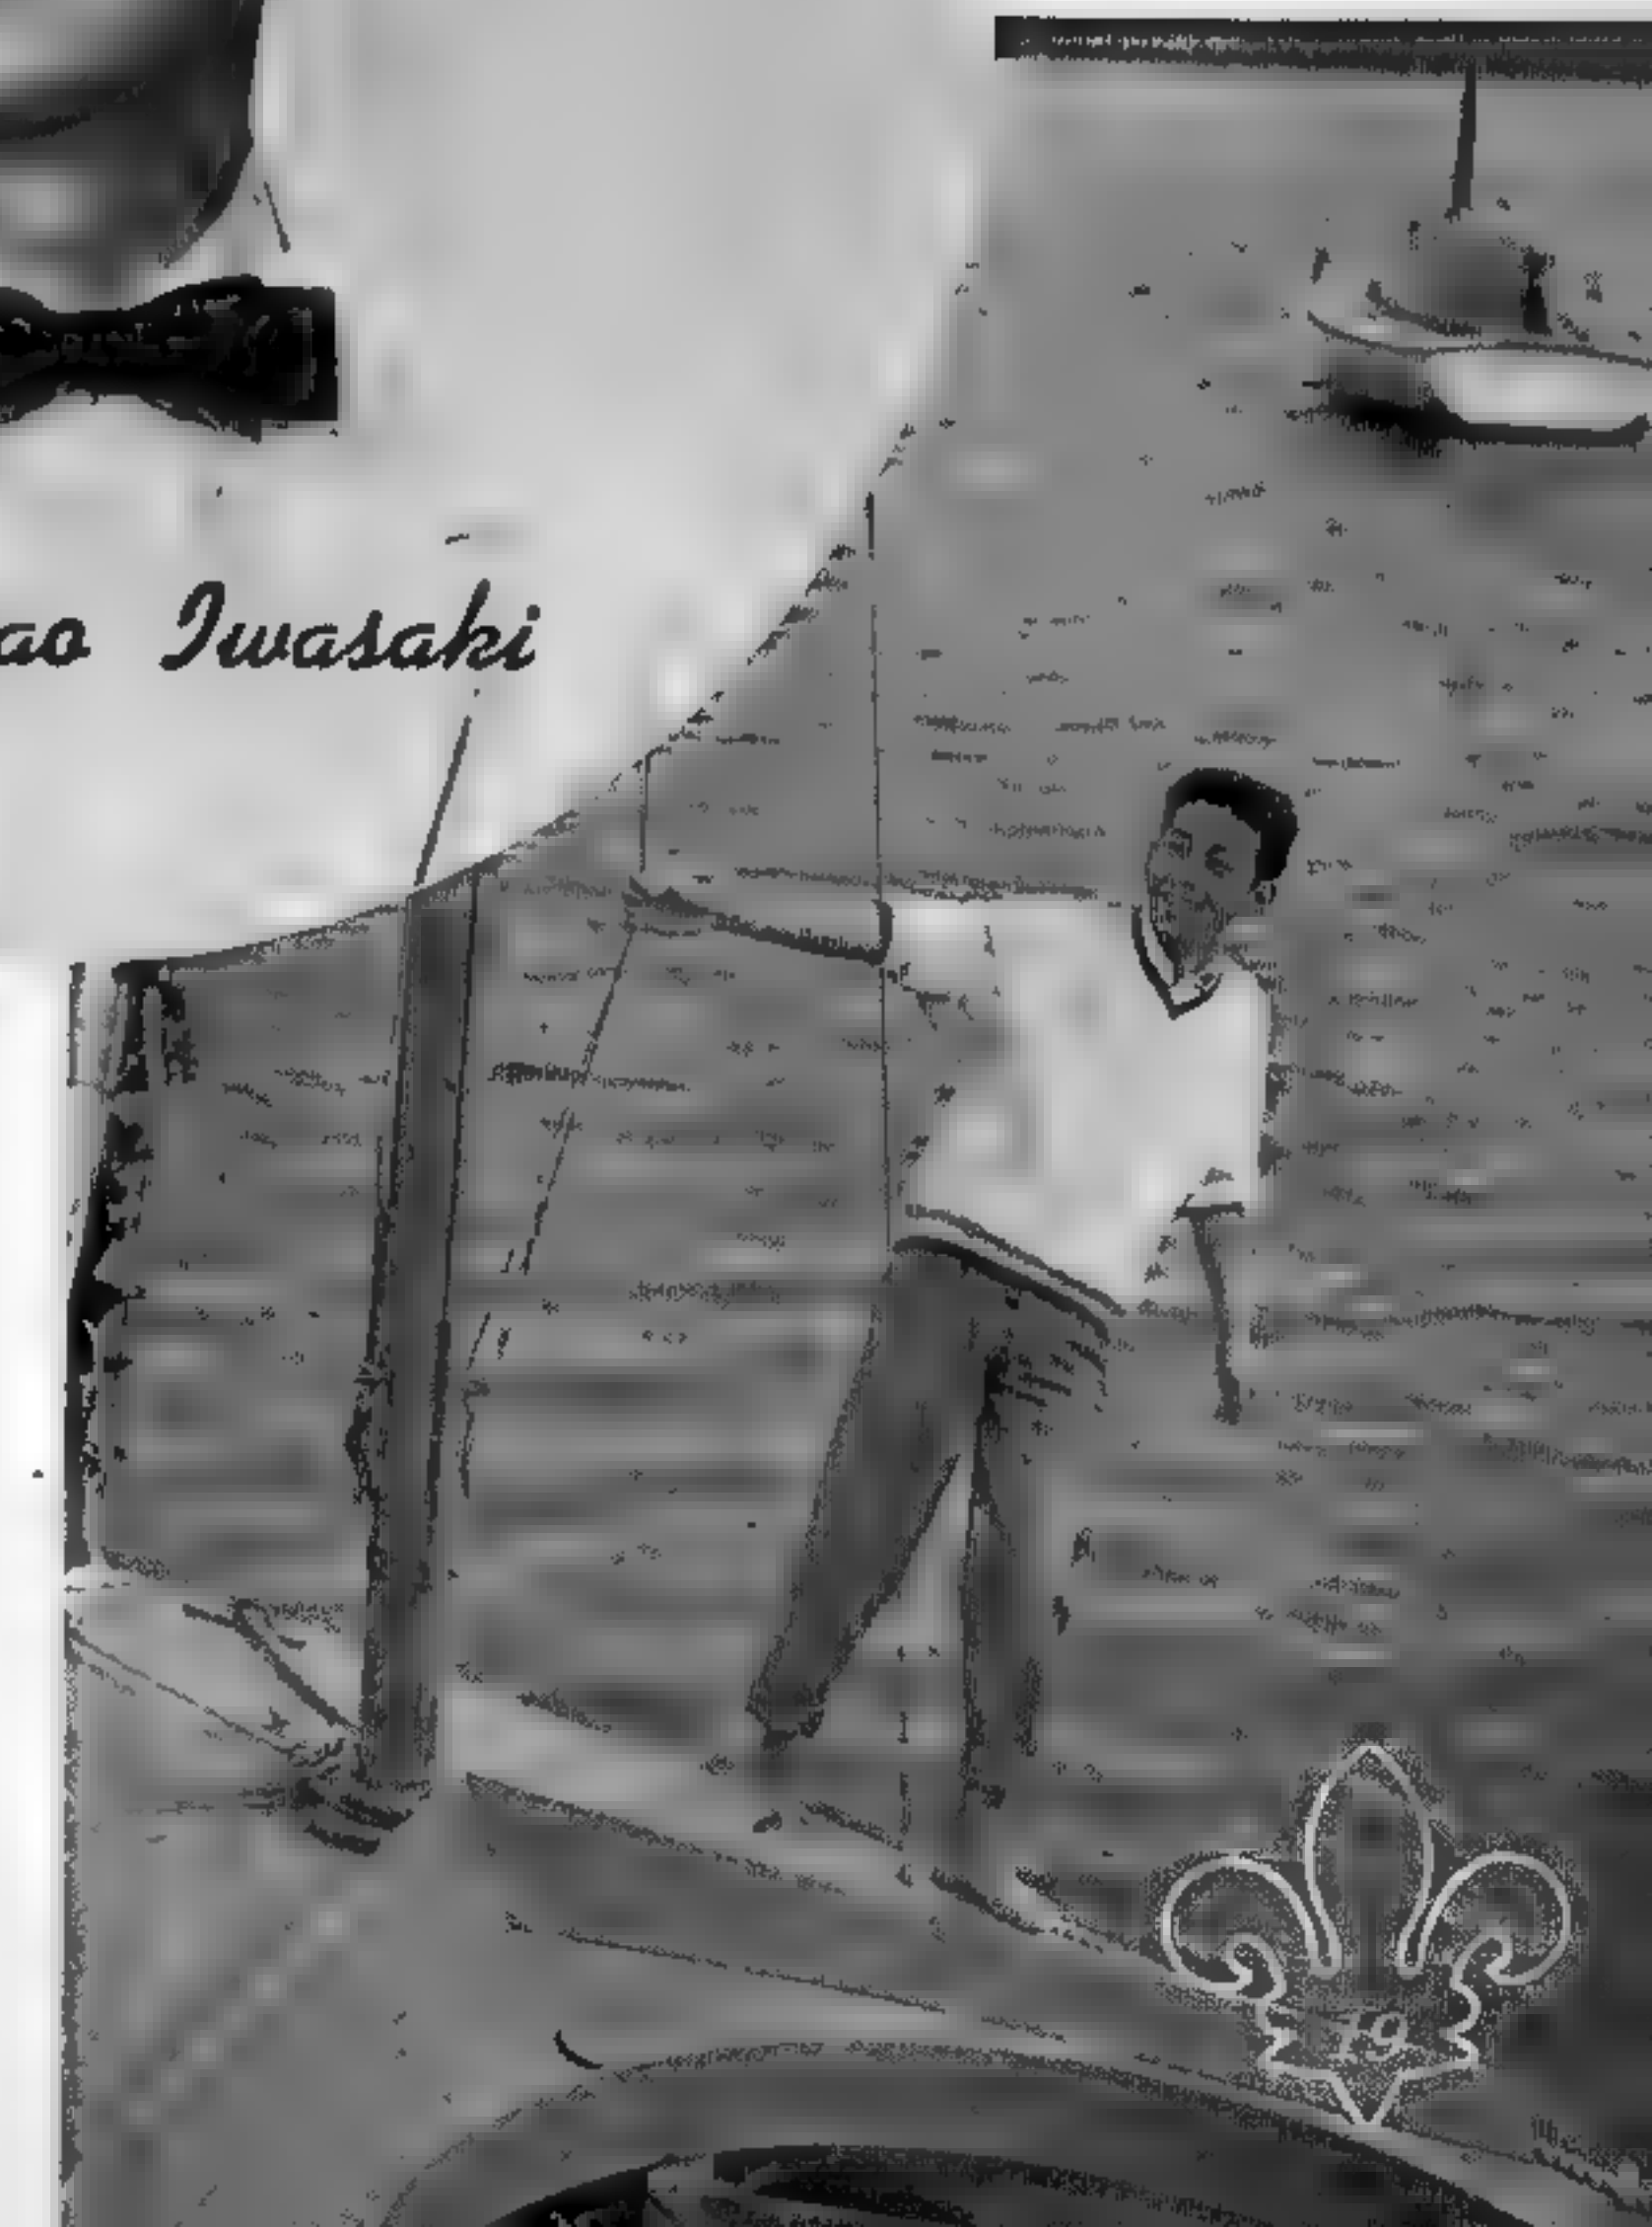

Father Chaminade believed that every Christian must be an apostle. He wished to gather a group of young men who were willing to dedicate themselves to the Blessed Virgin and under her leadership to fight evil and promote good. "The Lord has chosen new wars," quoted Fr. Chaminade. Soon two professors, three students, a student-theologian, three laborers and three businessmen had united to form the first Sodality. By 1807, it had grown to 400 members. Napoleon suppressed the Sodality in 1809, but after his defeat it flourished again and did much good in Bordeaux.

Paul Chikao Iwasaki

Chikao is a small man with a great many interests..... math is one of the biggest of them, and he hopes to wrap it into his future somehow... meanwhile he goes about taking part in other activities such as the Scouts and the Sodality.....he takes a few pictures now and then (some are included in this book).....or perhaps works at his stamp collection.....or plays records or his ukulele.....or maybe gets away from it all on the briny blue (see opposite photo).....his only wish in life is to grow about twenty centimeters—up, that is.....but he can be consoled by the fact that it is universally believed that good things come in small packages.....this package came into the world July 15, 1943.

At Agen, France, a small group of young women had got together with the same idea in mind as the sodalists of Bordeaux had. At their head was Adele de Tranquellon. From a friend she learned of the sodality in Bordeaux, and wrote to Father Chaminade for information. He sent her what she wished, and in 1810 visited the group himself. Little by little he told her of the grand plan he had been forming for years—ever since Saragossa. The result was the establishment in 1816 of a religious order for women, called The Daughters of Mary Immaculate.

Michael J. T. Kobayashi

'Twas the 18th of August, in '41, the life of Michael was begun.....and it has proved pretty interesting ever since.....Mike is many-sided in his activities ...at school he was a first-stringer on the basketball team.....a member of the Sodality.....the treasurer of the Forward..... and a class officer several times.....outside school his sports activities include baseball every Sunday .....but what he is best known for is the way he wraps himself around the microphone and sails off into a high tenor interpretation of the latest hit tunes.....and speaking of sailing high Mike says his future will be with a travel company ..... Happy Landings!

Father Chaminade's plans found their fulfillment after twenty years of waiting when one day Jean Baptiste Lalanne came to him and told him he was putting himself completely at Fr. Chaminade's disposal. Fr. Chaminade said with joy, "This is what I long ago expected would one day happen." He explained his plan of forming a religious society of men dedicated especially to the Blessed Virgin, who, as the promised Woman, was to crush the head of the serpent of evil. "Let us," said Father Chaminade, "be the heel of the Woman." And so the Society of Mary had its beginning.

Chii M. Liang

Chii Ming Liang might be a George Washington of China .....at least he was born on February 22 (1941).....however instead of chopping down cherry trees he prefers to scatter billiard balls around.....or sometimes he likes to relax by going fishing.....and he likes to swim also.....by way of a side hobby he has an interesting collection of match boxes.....and when he has time he takes part in sports, especially basketball in which he is good.....he can draw a map of Chinatown blindfolded.....it is also said he was the inspiration for "I'm a Honkey-Tonk Man".....he says little, thinks a lot, and in general has life figured out pretty well.

A few days after Lalanne's visit to Father Chaminade, the two spoke to other members of the Sodality about the plan. Five others joined them. Of the seven members, two were seminarians, one was a professor, two were businessmen, and two were coopers. From the beginning the Society was composed of three distinct groups: ecclesiastics, men of letters, and workingmen. On December 11, 1817, the first seven members made their profession of vows before the Archbishop of Bordeaux. The cornerstone of the Society of Mary was solemnly laid.

As a religious Congregation, the Society of Mary is unique. There is no other congregation or order of religious which has three distinct groups perfectly blended into one. When Father Chaminade presented his plan to Pope Gregory XVI, he was told that such a thing had never been done before. Father Chaminade had the best answer. It was being done and it worked. In 1869 the system was again challenged, and the members themselves voted to keep it as it was. Today priests, teaching Brothers and working Brothers live a common rule and life.

John Y. Nagai

If you want to find John on a weekend or a free day, the best place to look would be Den-en-cho-fu.....tennis is very much a part of his life..... he also is active in other sports, particularly soccer, having been both Varsity goalie and manager of the JV team.....he likes to skate, too.....his many years as a Sodalist brought him to the Sodality Presidency in the senior year.....he is a lover of good music and things cultural.....in studies he has always been near the top.....he plans to go to the States for college and decide his future from there. He'll tell you he was born April 18, 1942.....(the anniversary of Paul Revere's ride—since our theme is about anniversaries!)

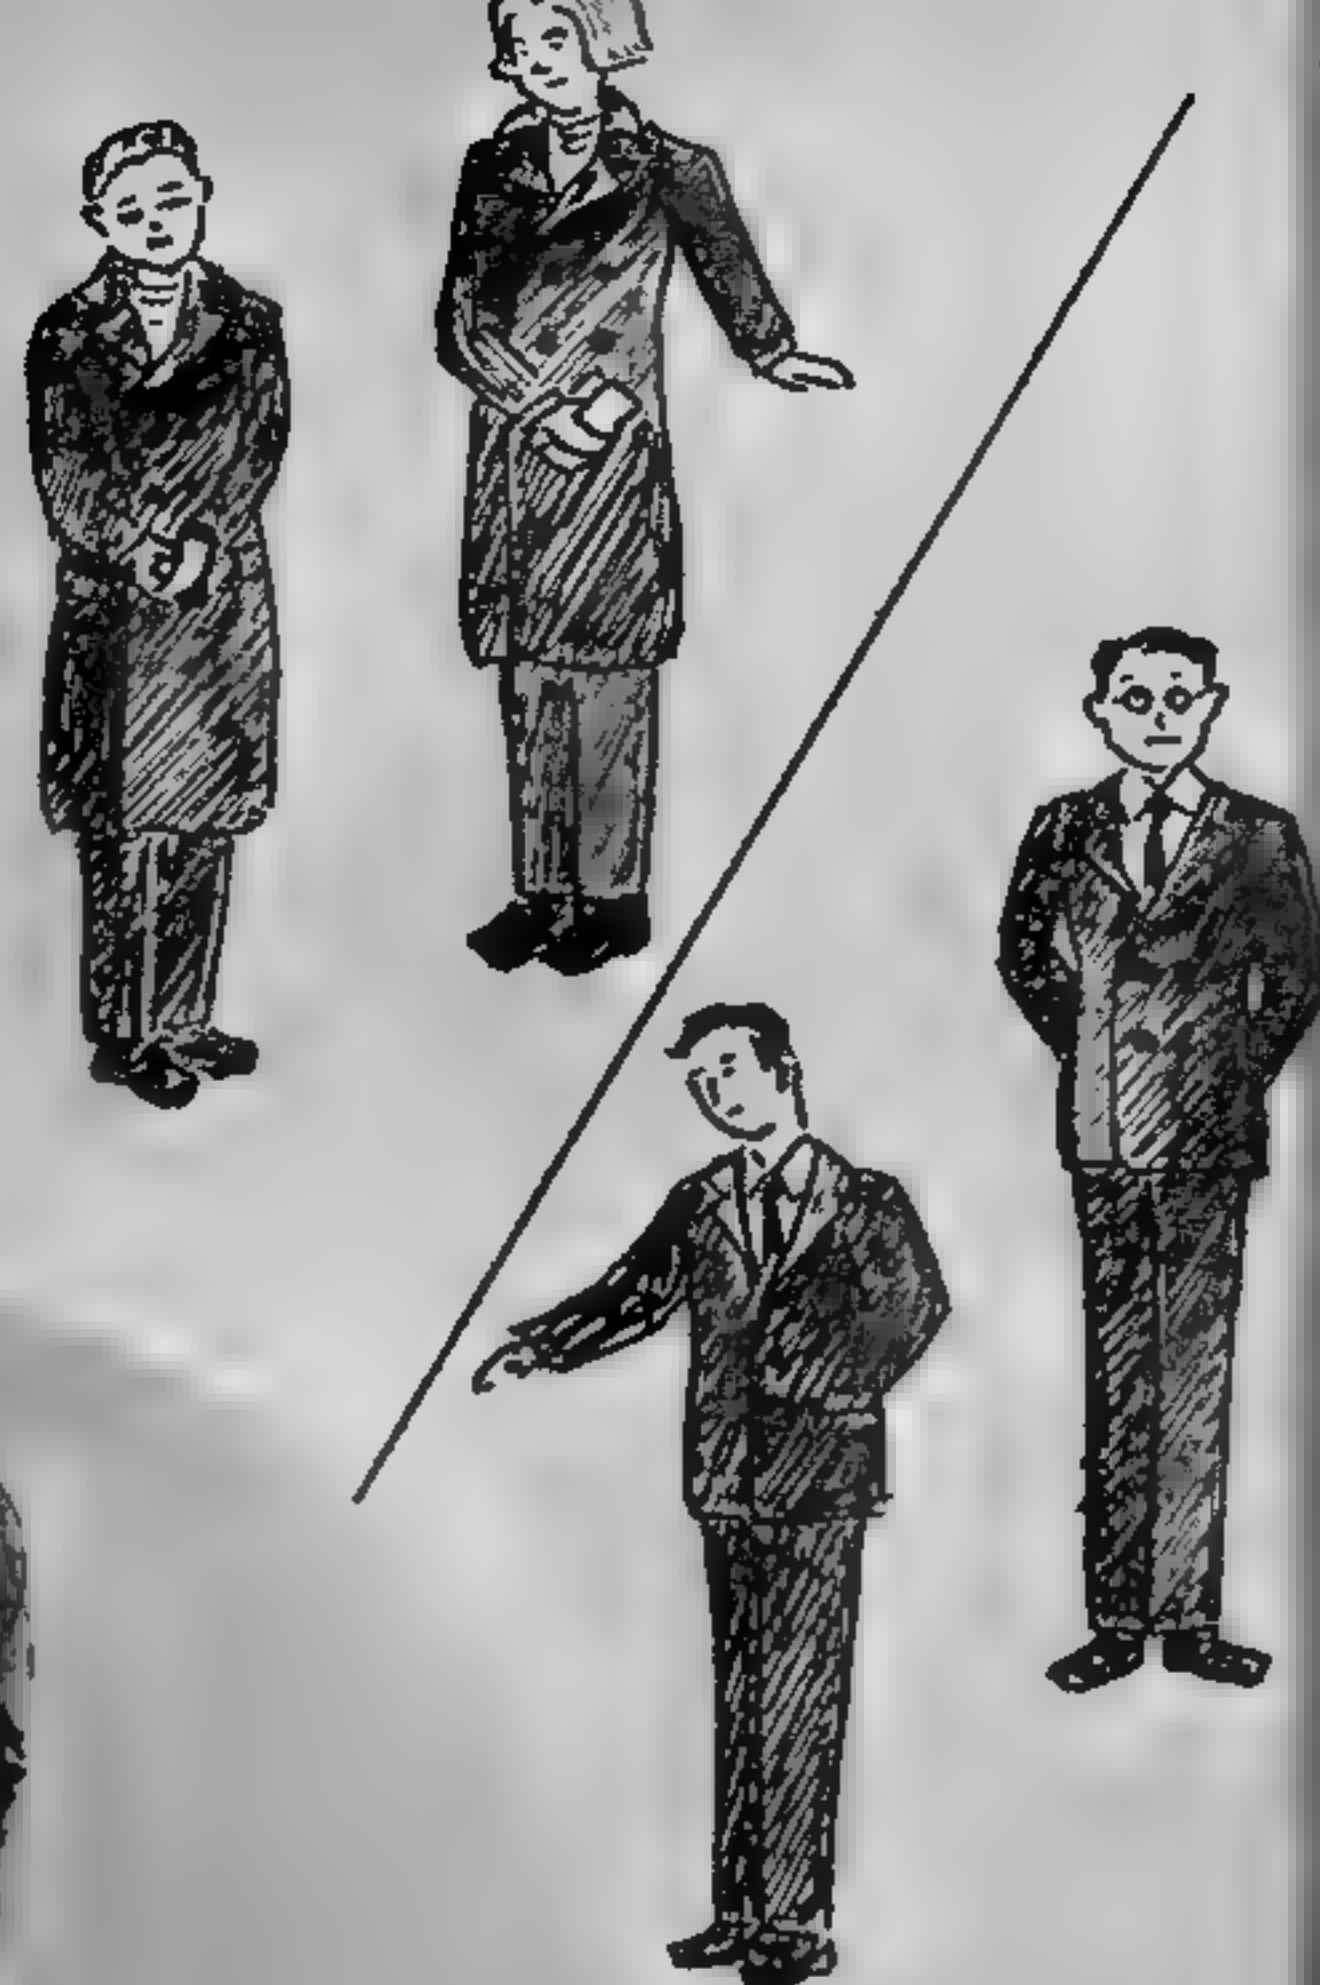

Ever since 1942 Johnny has been celebrating May 11 as his big day..... until he's 21 he isn't sure whether he's Japanese, American, or both, or neither .....music seems to occupy much of his leisure time (which is most of his time).....he plays the piano and the ukulele.....or else he listens to his numerous records.....and in spite of what his classmates may think, he likes to read.....he is good at sports but they sometimes require too much effort.....in fact, there is good reason to believe that he will one day make a fortune when he publishes his book "How to Loaf Successfully"—if he can get up enough energy to write it.

Toshikazu Johnny Nakabayashi

Father Chaminade believed that in order to accomplish the most good, the members of his Society should be very much like the people with whom they had to work, at least in external things. For this reason, he did not have a special habit as did the members of other religious orders. In the beginning, the Brothers wore a chestnut brown Prince Albert coat, the style then in fashion. Later on, the color was changed to black to conform to Church regulations. Today, the members of the Society wear a black suit, still keeping Fr. Chaminade's original idea.

Chawarit S. Nopakun

Happy-go-lucky, ever-popular Stan the Man was born on September 9, 1942, a native of Thailand..... he is the closest thing to "What, me worry?" that we know of.....his ready laugh and infectious smile are welcome everywhere .....he joins the big crowd of record collectors in the class (as the photo shows) and can spend hours just listening—critically, of course.....he has been a class officer ever since when.....he is also a Sodalist.....and a wheel on the Forward wagon..... he swims, plays tennis, or soccer, or whatever you want to play.....as long as he can fulfill his motto: "Enjoy Thyself".....he'll be one of the lucky few who will find pleasure in his work later on.....or put it there himself.

In his last years, Fr. Chaminade retired to the Novitiate of St. Anne. He would often walk in the garden where there was a statue of the Blessed Virgin. Once a novice saw him put his hand on the foot of the statue where it stepped on the head of the serpent beneath it. He pressed down with his hand and said, "Ah, Satan, she crushed your head, and she will triumph over you forever." He spent much time in prayer for his Society and its members, now nearly 500 in number, working in 60 establishments in three countries. His plan and dream had at last been realized.

Wataru William Ogawa

Wataru has the unique distinction of having been born on the same date as Father Chaminade, April 8—181 years later.....at SJC he has been in several activities: Scouting, Sodality, and softball.....though he is most often associated with his little blue car, other things interest him more.....for example drawing, archery, Japanese fencing, model-building, fishing and reading.....quite a list!.....but none of them seem to fit in with his future, which he says will be in the import-export business.....on second thought, maybe he's exporting Japanese colors, bows and models for craft work..... or his own drawings!

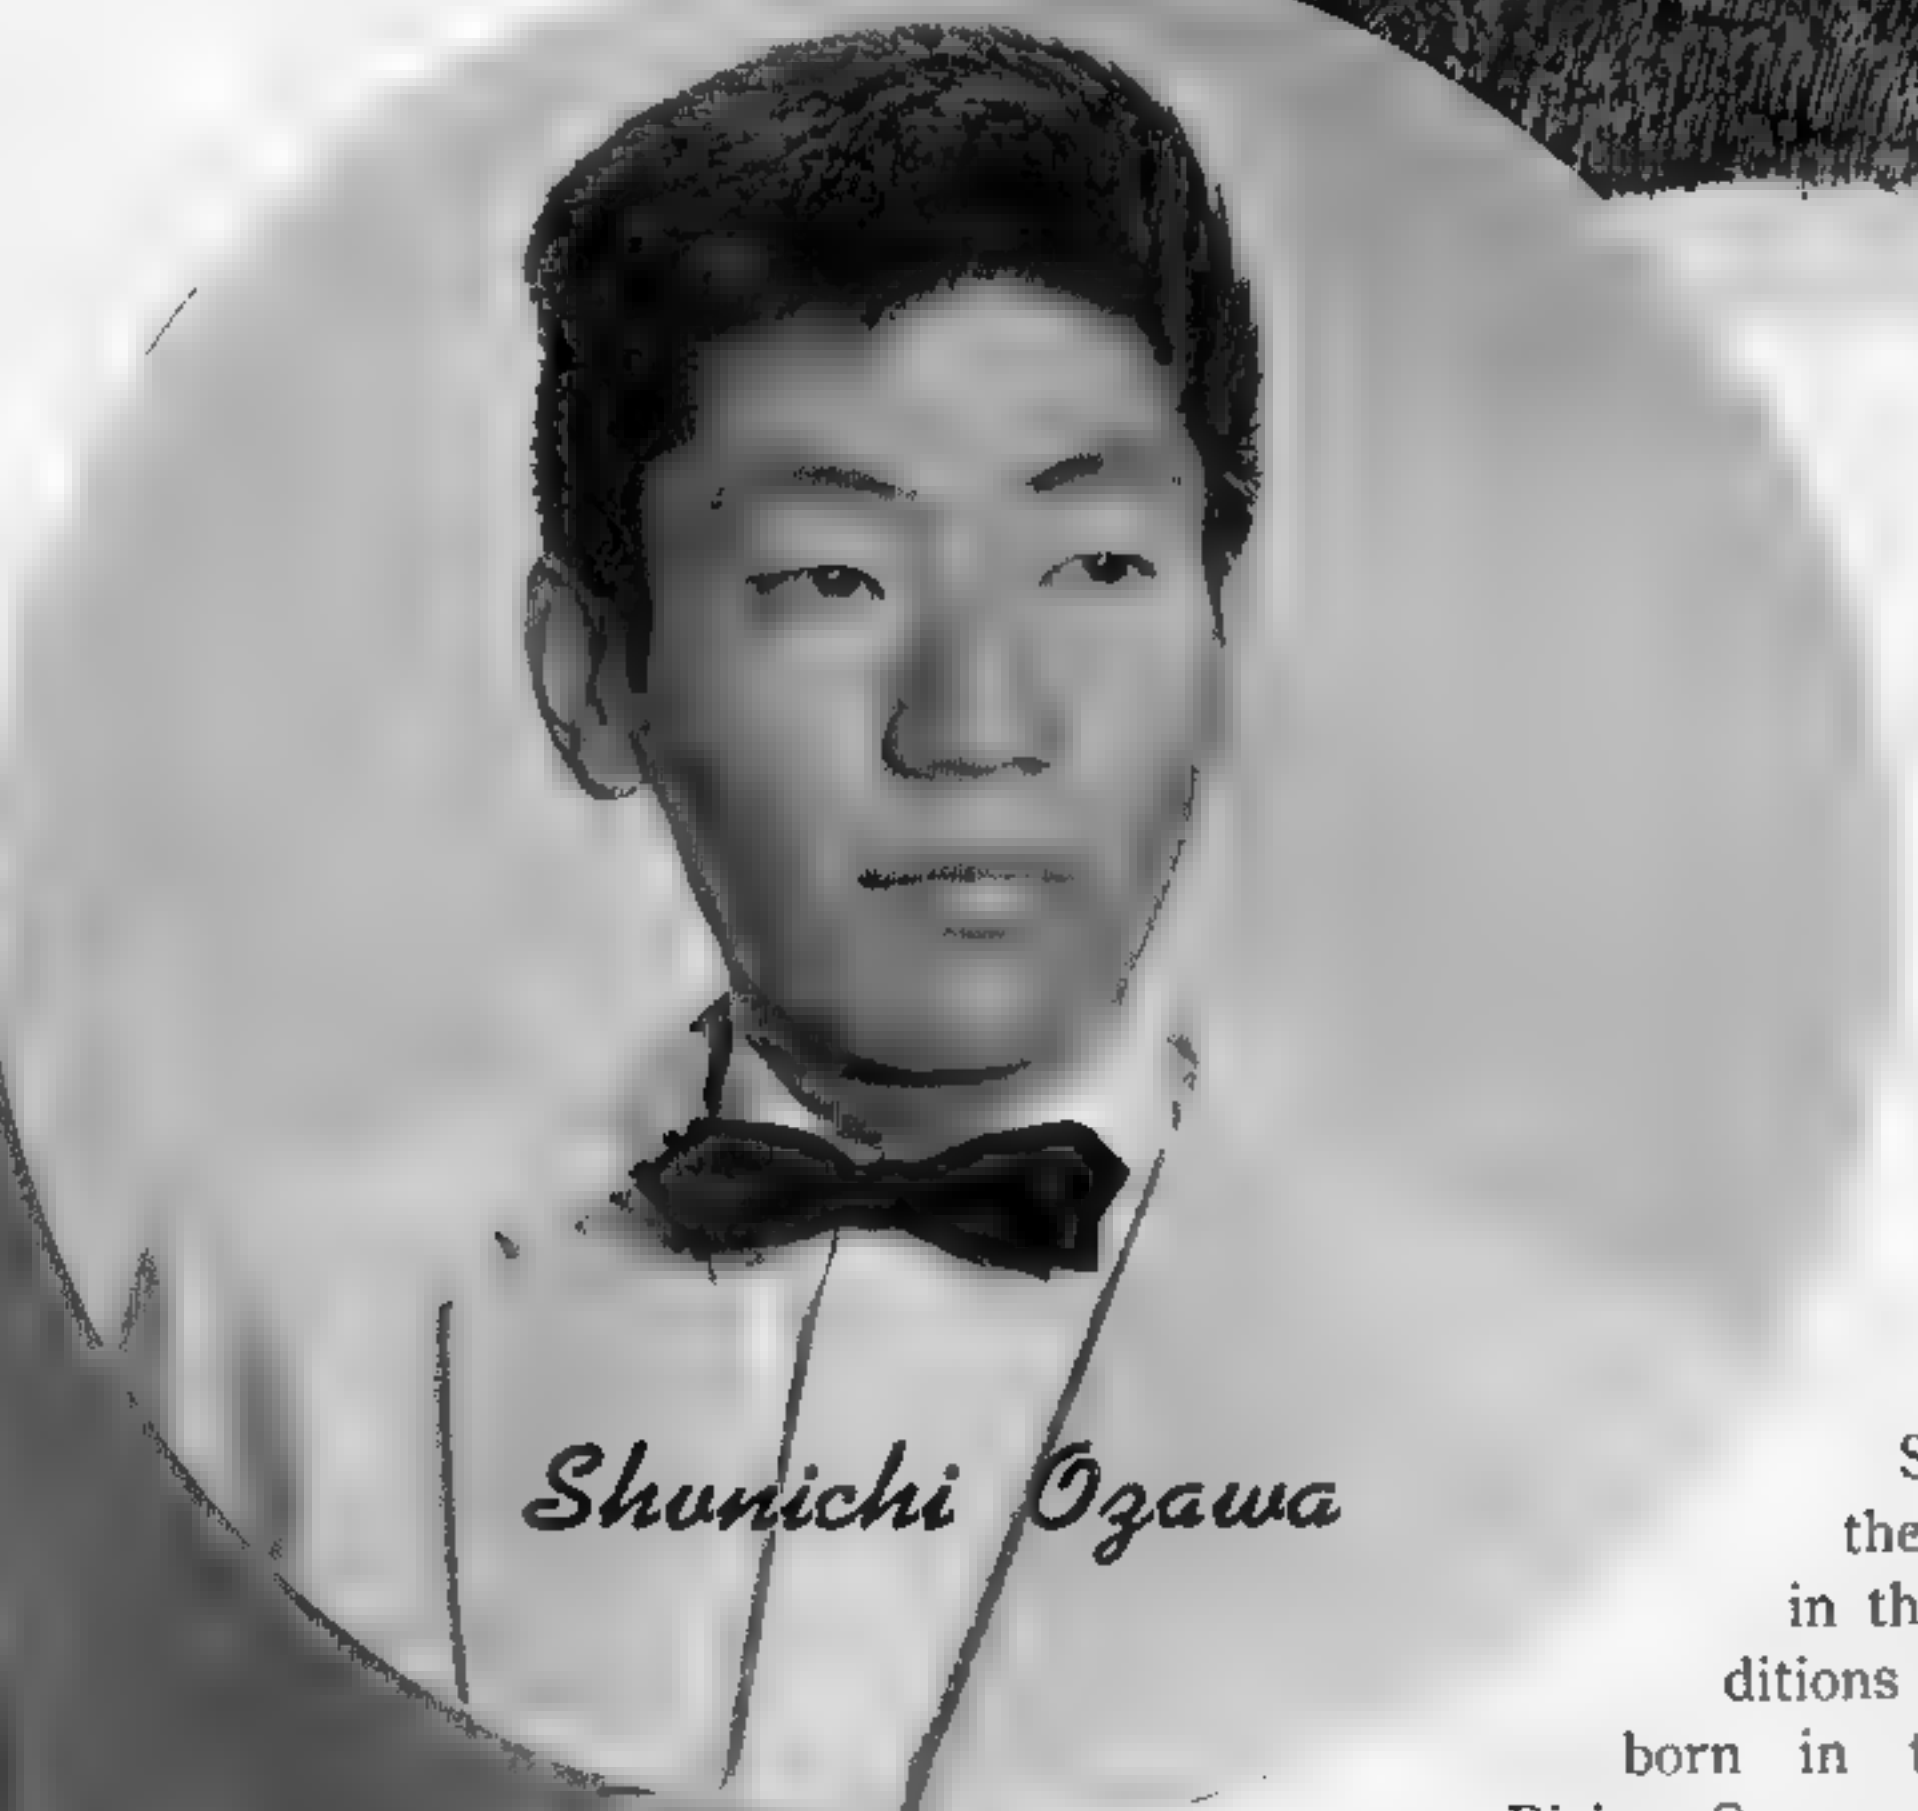

In early January, 1850, Father Chaminade had a stroke of apoplexy. His right side was paralyzed and he lost his power of speech. Many people sent messages and promises of prayers. On January 22, it was evident that death was near. The Superior General, Fr. Caillet, and others gathered around his bed. He slowly picked up the crucifix and pressed it to his lips. He then laid it on his breast, with his hand over it, and in this peaceful attitude, he very quietly breathed his last.

Crowds had attended the funeral of Fr. Chaminade. He had been a Canon of the Cathedral of Saint Andrew, and it was from this church that his body was taken to the Carthusian cemetery for burial. It was placed in a common vault with other dead clergy of the city. It remained practically unknown and unhonored for twenty years. Then a beautiful marble monument was erected on a separate plot in the cemetery, and in 1871 the remains of Fr. Chaminade were transferred to it. Flowers and ex-votos still adorn it continually.

Shunichi Ozawa

Of all the members of the class, Shunichi is perhaps the most well-versed in the customs and traditions of Japan.....he was born in this Land of the Rising Sun on June 5, 1942..... one of his favorite entertainments is Japanese movies.....now and then he takes a few hours off for skating.....around school he's quiet, but always willing to help out.....he has big plans for the future, which he hopes to spend in "the wild blue yonder" jetting from place to place..... this comes as a special surprise since we have never known him to move at more than five kilometers and hour.

Tammy Stephen Pow

Tammy has a world record: he arrived at school thirty seconds before nine every day for years .....he arrived on this planet on October 5, 1940..... several things occupy his time now: stamps and coins, for example..... he also likes music, and plays the guitar.....he was a member of the Sodality.....he also played basketball whenever time and health would let him .....and he has, of all things, a collection of insects! .....art is another of his interests and there are samples of it in this book.....the future, says Tammy, will be in the business world.....but if his job starts before nine, he'll never make it!

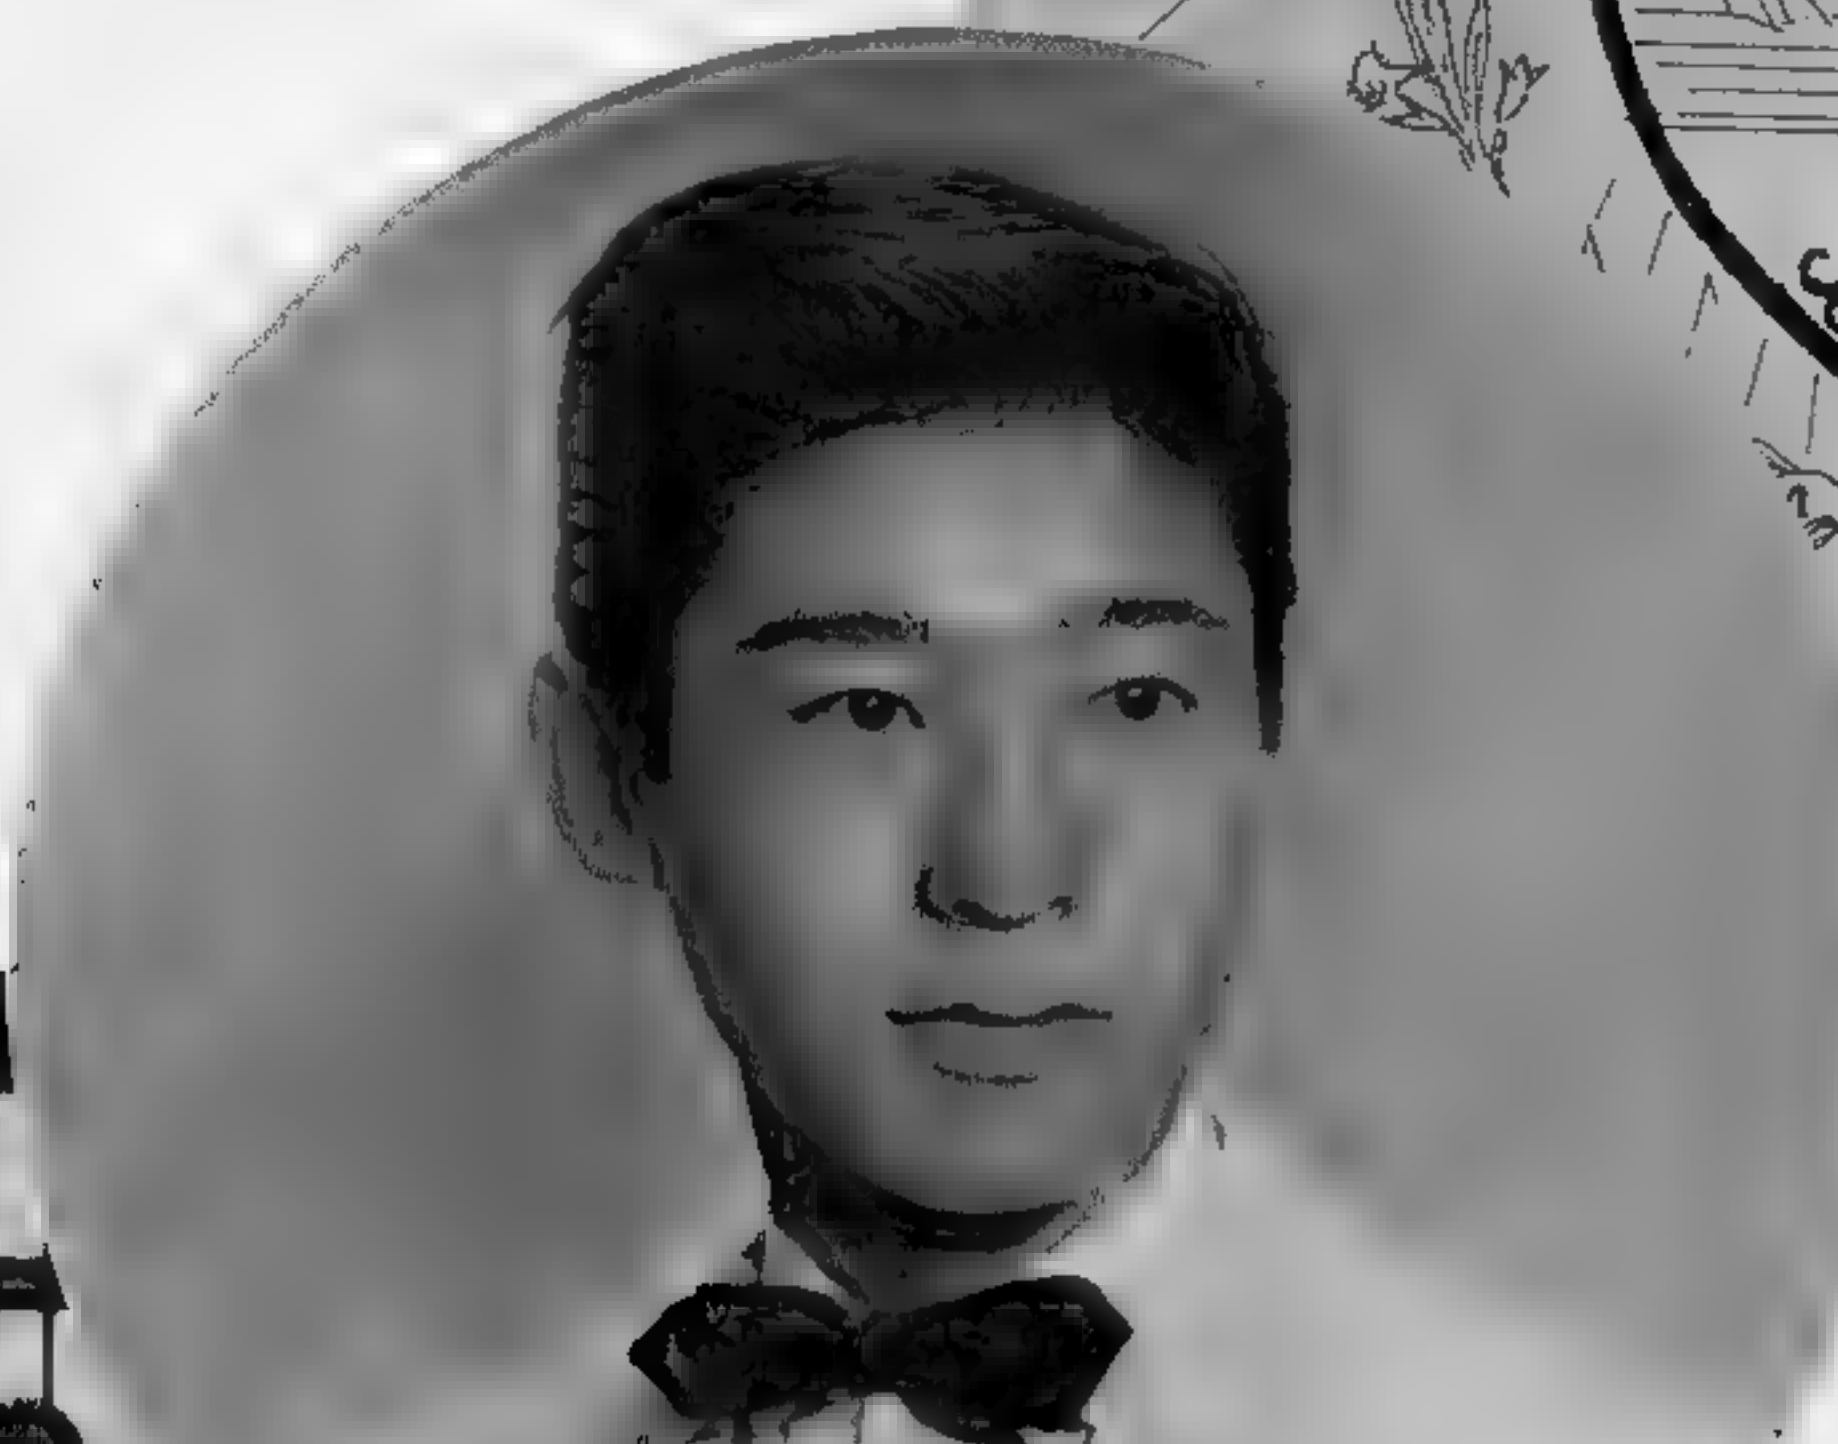

The coat of arms of the Society of Mary reveals its history and its ideals. In the center of the shield is the figure of Our Lady of the Pillar and the monogram of Mary. On the right are the interlocked moons, symbol of Bordeaux where the Society was established. On the left is the star of Pope Leo XIII who approved the Constitutions of the Society. Roses (charity) and lilies (purity) surround the shield. Above and below are two of Fr. Chaminade's favorite expressions: "Strong in Faith" and "Through the Mother to the Son."

Since its foundation, the Society of Mary has spread to many parts of the world. Father Chaminade lived to see it grow in France and spread to Switzerland and America. Today in Europe there are establishments also in Belgium, Germany, Austria, Italy, Hungary, and Spain. The Society also spread across the Mediterranean to Tunis, Morocco and French Congo. Recently establishments have been made in Nigeria, Togo, Nyassaland and Kenya. The seed planted at Saragossa has developed into a great tree—greater perhaps than Fr. Chaminade ever imagined it would be.

Francis K. Tanabe

On February 6, 1943 was born a little fellow who never did get very big but who did become very active in many things .....Senior Class President and Editor of the yearbook would seem enough to keep anybody busy..... but Francis finds time for other things, too.....the Sodality, among them.....and in relaxing moments he might play his ukulele, or work on his stamps, or read.....if he feels like sports he'll take to tennis, or bowling.....and occasionally if there's nothing else to do he might even study—just to keep up his good record.....he plans to supplement Nakabayashi's book with another volume called "Or Even Unsuccessfully."

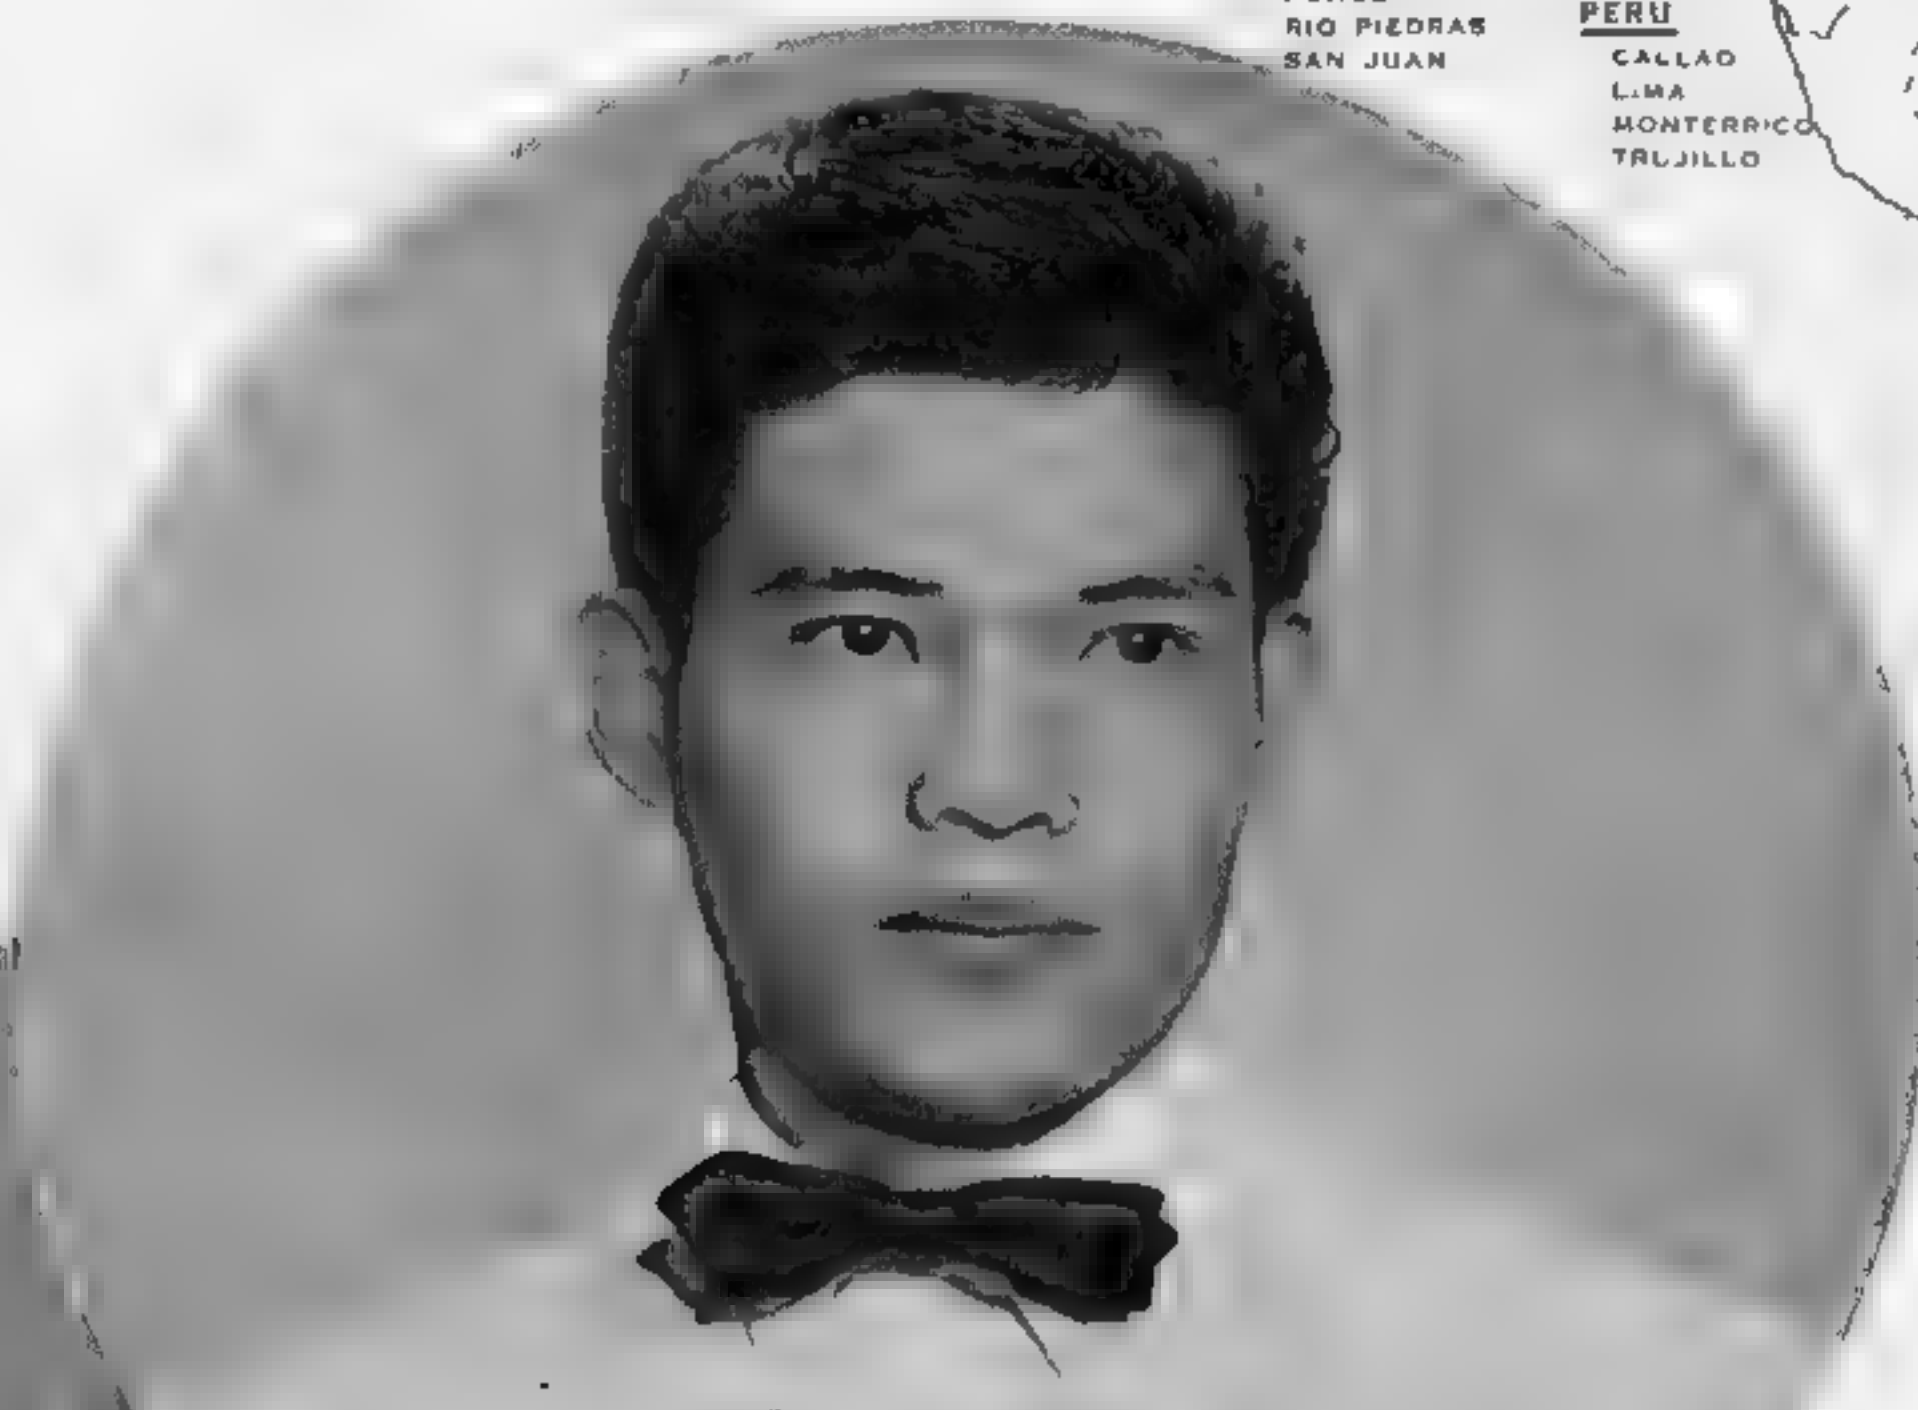

Joseph Samuel Utagawa

Midway between Christmas and New Years comes the birthday of "Uta" on December 29.....from a baby in 1941 he has grown to the husky figure familiar on the soccer field.....besides the Varsity soccer, Joe has other sports, notably swimming and skating.....he belongs to the class group of record collectors, and likes all kinds of music.....he can play and sing, too, if coaxed enough.....he has an interesting collection of pennants.....but his major interest is drama where he is really at his best.....his interests are so numerous that he's having a hard time deciding what to make his life work.....from what we know of him, it might well be he'll end up with Merriam-Webster or Funk and Wagnalls.

In 1849 three Brothers went to Dayton, Ohio. This was the beginning of the Society of Mary in the New World. Since that time the Society in the United States has grown into several Provinces with some 1,500 religious. There are also establishments in Canada and Puerto Rico. Before the persecution, the Society also existed in Mexico. In South America, there are Marianist schools in Argentina, Chile and Peru. And on the mid-Pacific U.S. state of Hawaii, the Society recently celebrated its seventy-fifth anniversary.

José F. Yamabe

The truly 'senior' member of the class came into the world on the last day of March in 1940.....of Philippine descent, Jose is now an honorable citizen of Japan.....but he still likes the Philippine music and every once in a while gets out his guitar or bongo for some melodic moments.....he has a collection of matches.....short wave is also one of his interests.....he was a member of the Sodality.....and the only student we know who taught himself for three months and went on record as saying he preferred being in school..... anyway, this had the advantage of making him a reader.....his future will be in the business world.

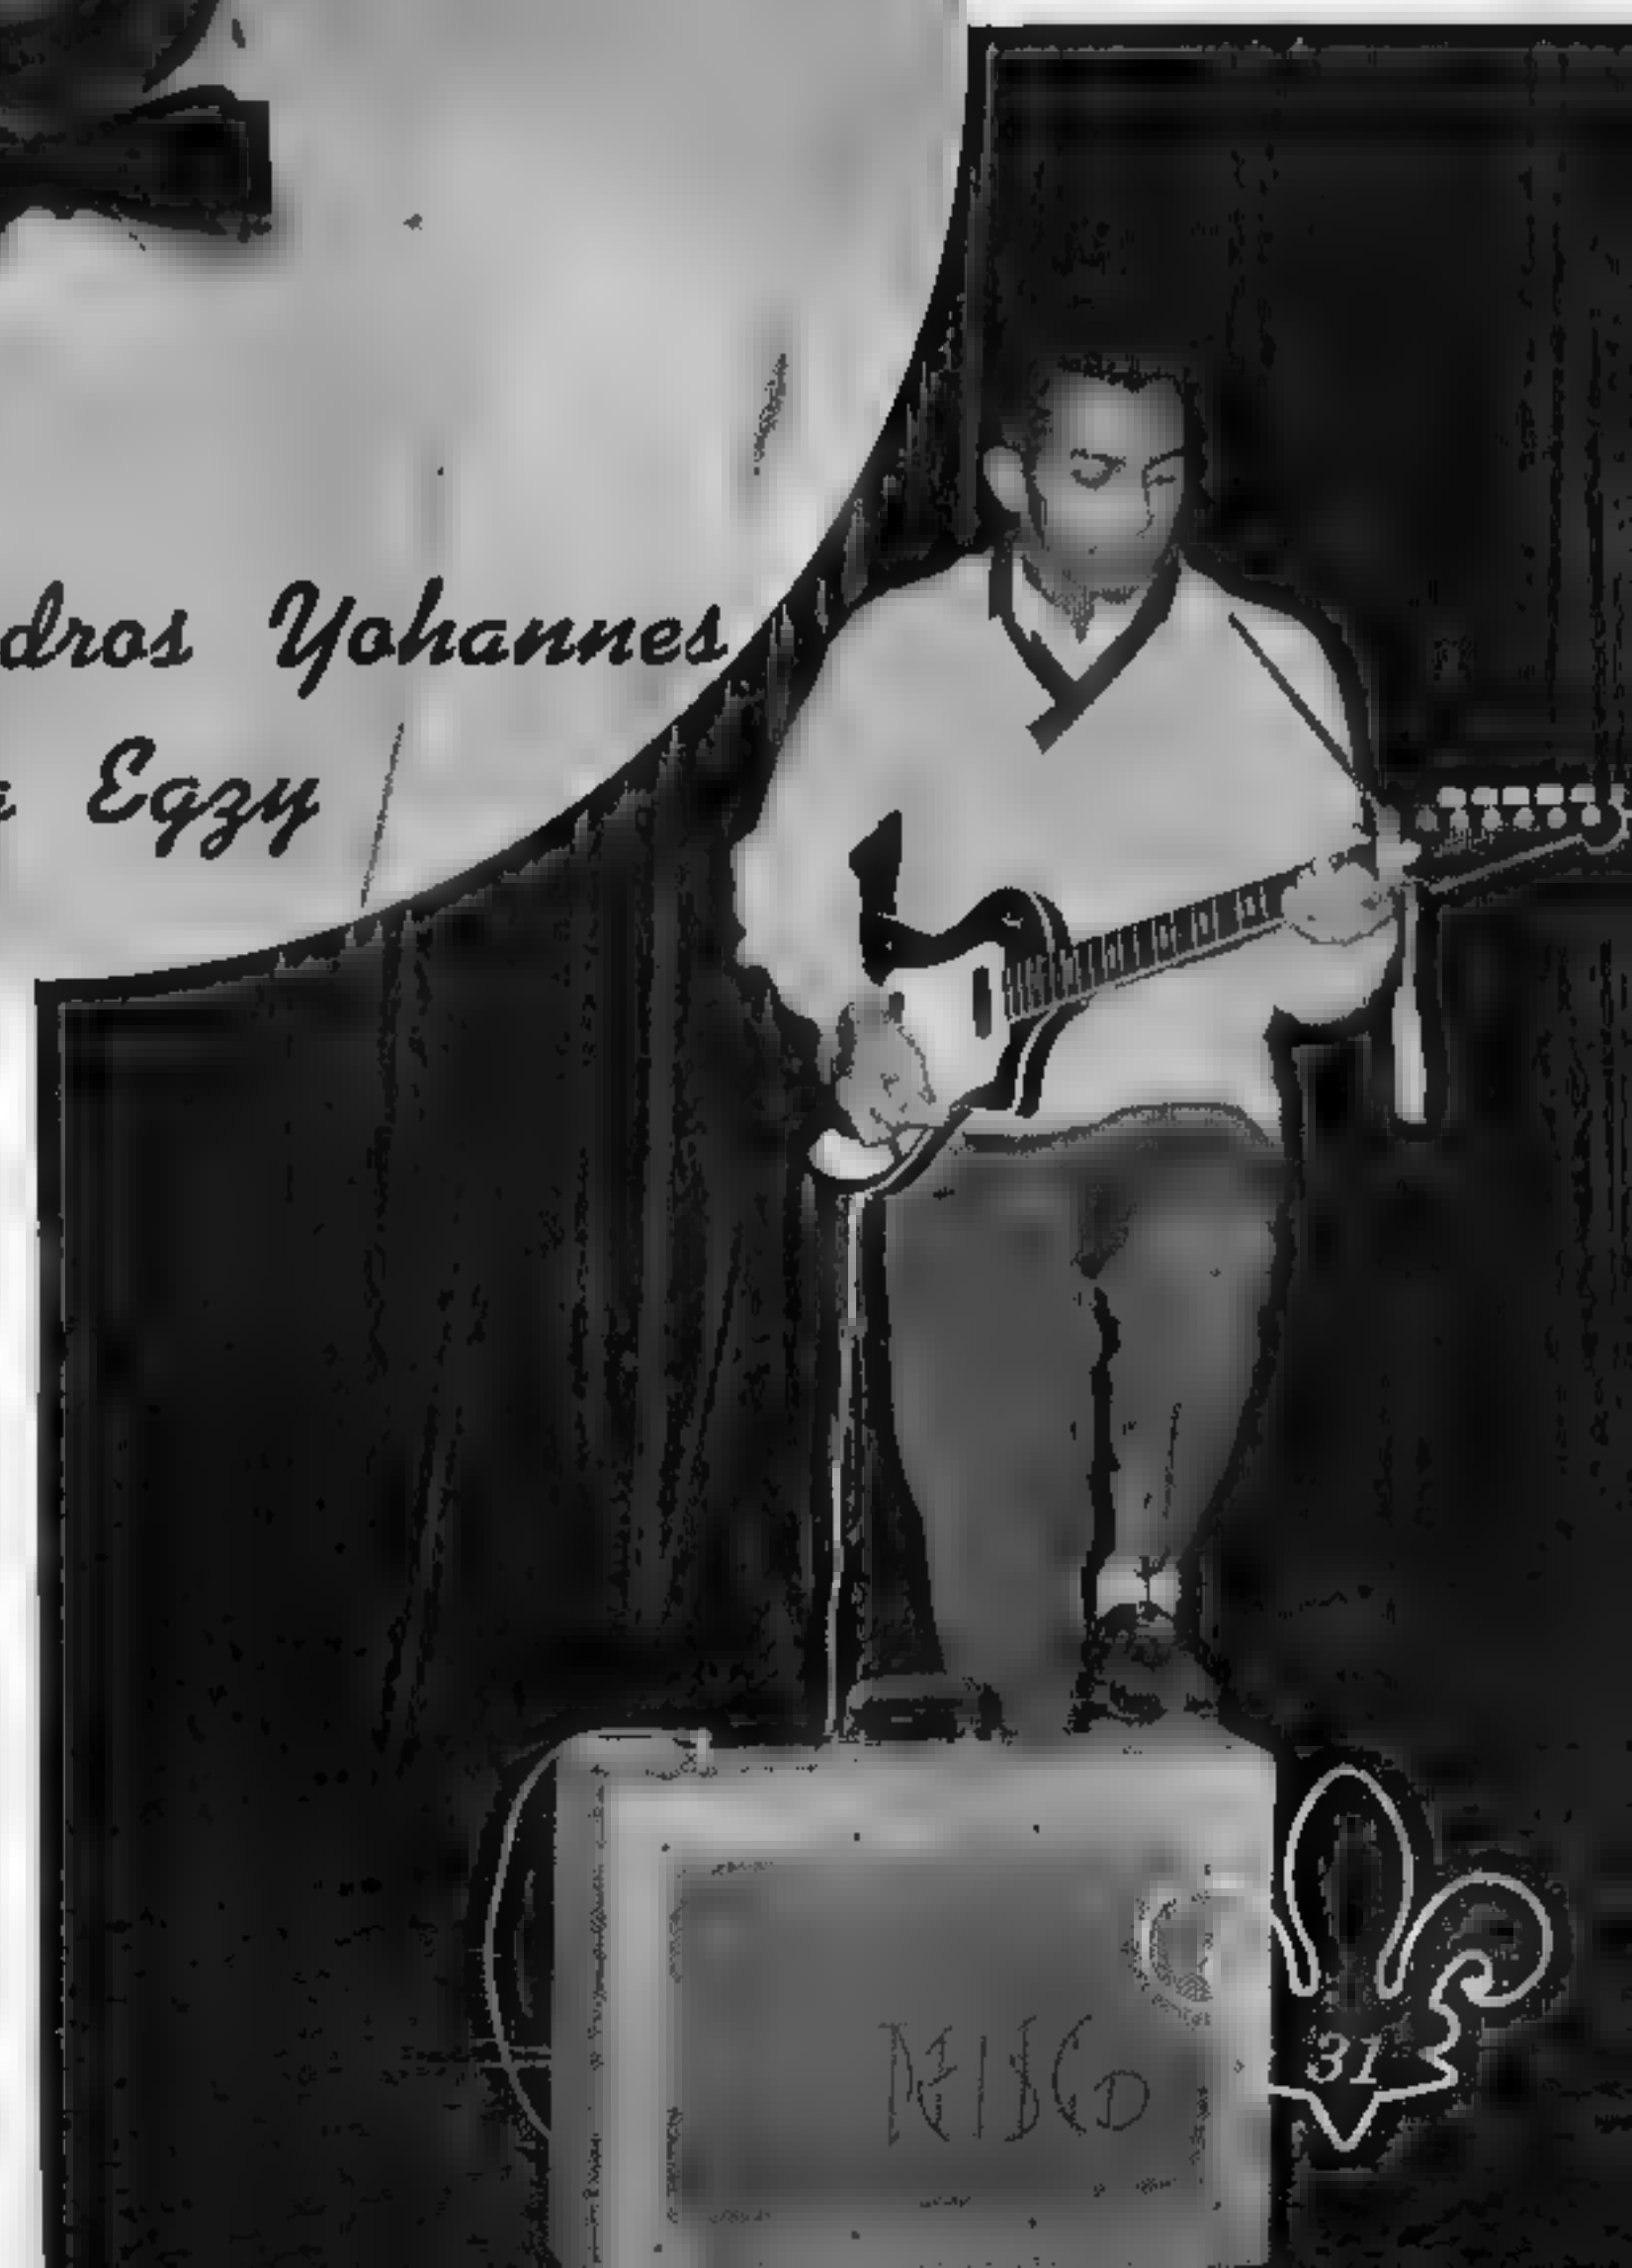

Perhaps it was Japan that Father Chaminade had in mind when he said that the members of his Society should be ready and willing to go "to the ends of the earth". The first Marianists arrived in Japan in 1888. There are now eight establishments of the Society here. The oldest is the Gyosei in Tokyo. The others are: Akebono, Tokyo; St. Joseph College, Yokohama; Kaisei, Nagasaki; Meisei, Osaka; Taisei, Fukuoka; Kosei, Sapporo; and the Novitiate which was moved in 1959 from Tokyo to Oiso.

*Seyoum Teodros Yohannes
Reda Egzy*

A new and happy addition to the class in its senior year came in the person of Seyoum from Ethiopia... he was born there on November 25, 1943.....since that time, he has travelled with his diplomat-father to many countries.....he is an excellent guitarist, and since he belongs to this class, a record collector.....he was a valuable and welcome addition to the class soccer team..... he plans to return to Canada for college.....and then perhaps back home.....and his parting message is that he flatly denies that somebody ran off with an Ethiopian battleship.

PLEASED TO MEET YOU

After the from JSC last June of a large group of Scouts, the irregular means of communication was discussed as for Scouts. The idea was expanded and happy to first SCOUTS all Veterans of our Cuts, and Senior Scouts all friends.

Highlight of the summer for the Scouts and Senior Scouts of Troop #1 was the 19th Troop summer camp on the shore of Ashi-no-ko. The five Scouts pitched their individual tents and the bands of names and Scouts set up in a tent the near.

Nine days of beautiful weather, the Patrols for many activities along with the program supervised by the Bro. James, with the help of Scouts. Even the three days which deepened the end of the session provided valuable experience for all.

It's been a long, long time. May back in 1950 when we started on the revision of Troop #1's "Constitutions and By-Laws". The Boy Scout International Bureau gave its approval to a revision, photograph form, and suggested that the new constitution be prepared. Since then, the plan has been prepared, and the new constitution has been prepared, and the new constitution has been prepared.

135 members of the I.B.S. Troop #1 were at the B.S.A. summer camp near the International Village on Lake M. July. Senior Scouts Messer and Karl Kersten and Scout Bobby were climbing with Bro. Prizes for the scholarship fund raffle

The above picture is part of a big story—the story of what the SJC Association is doing to make an SJC education possible for some deserving youths who might not otherwise be able to have one. The Christmas raffle, whose winners were drawn on December 21, is but one of the many activities undertaken by the Association to help build up a Scholarship Fund. SJC students of yesterday are paving a future for SJC students of tomorrow.
